Edward Sloat Electrocuted In New Jersey

East Borough Man Touches Power Line

J. Edward Sloat

J Edward Sloat, 44-year-old East Stroudsburg journeyman lineman employed by the New Jersey Power and Light Co., was electrocuted yesterday as he worked atop a utility pole near Basking Ridge, Somerset county, N. J.

Other members of the work crew said the East Stroudsburg man apparently came into contact with a 4,600-volt wire. His overalls burst into flame and he slumped across a guy wire, according to one fellow workman who was on the scene.

The victim's right side and leg were severely burned at the point where the live wire brushed against his work trousers.

After attempts to revive him failed, the victim was pronounced dead by the Somerset county physician, and the body was removed to the Galloway funeral home at Basking Ridge.

Mr. Sloat, a native of Halstead, Pa., had lived in East Stroudsburg the greater part of his life. He was graduated from East Stroudsburg High school where he was prominent in athletics.

During the Second World War he served with the Seabees on Guam and at other points with the U. S. Navy. Interested in politics, he once ran for tax collector in East Stroudsburg.

He was a member of St. Matthew's R. C. church, East Stroudsburg, Thomas P. Lambert post 2540, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Eagles Aerie 1106, Stroudsburg.

Mr. Sloat entered the employ of the New Jersey Power and Light Co. five years ago, and had been working out of Bernardsville, N. J., and in the Basking Ridge area for the past year.

The son of the late Leon Sloat and Mrs. James Shafer, of East Stroudsburg, he is survived by his mother and also his wife, Mrs. Vesta (Lesoine) Sloat, a nurse at Monroe County General hospital.

Funeral services will be held Monday with a requiem mass at 9:30 a. m. St. Matthew's church. Rev. Harold G. Durkin, church pastor, will be the celebrant.

Interment will be made in the Laurelwood cemetery. Friends may pay respects at the Lanterman funeral home, 27 Washington St., East Stroudsburg, from 7 to 9 p. m. Sunday.

House Favors Lowering Of Draft Age

Washington, (AP) — The House overwhelmingly demonstrated yesterday its support for lowering the draft age and making a survey preparatory to starting universal military training.

By a vote of 232 to 140, it defeated a substitute bill that would have extended the draft law but kept the present minimum induction age at 19 years. The defeated bill made no provision for UMT at any time.

The House put off until today a final vote on the administration-backed measure to drop the draft age to 18½, lengthen the period of service to 26 months and create a commission to report to Congress later on UMT. The draft law would be extended until July 1, 1954.

Indications were the administration bill would be passed and sent to a Senate-House conference.

The Senate has passed a bill lowering the draft age to 18, extending the service period to 24 months, putting a top strength of 4,000,000 on military personnel and authorizing the President to induct youths for UMT after the need for a service draft ends.

Mrs. Young Quits, Takes Mink Coat

Presidential Press Secretary Joseph H. Short disclosed under questioning at a news conference yesterday that Monday was the last day Mrs. Young worked. He said she explained she wanted to devote more time to her home duties.

The coat, a $9,540 natural pastel royal mink, came into nationwide prominence in a Senate banking subcommittee inquiry into the multi-billion dollar lending activities of the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) and others charged that influence and pressure had been brought upon the RFC directors by a group with White House connections.

One person named was E. Merl Young, whose wife Lauretta had the elegant fur coat.

The Senators received testimony that Mrs. Young picked out the coat last September at a New York furrier's place. The furrier testified the coat was first charged to her husband and later transferred to the account of Joseph H. Rosenbaum, a Washington attorney who was actively representing clients seeking RFC loans.

Young and Rosenbaum testified the lawyer paid for the coat as a personal loan to Young.

Materials To Be Controlled

Washington, (AP)—The government intends to put specific ceilings on meat prices shortly, and after July 1 it will resume its World War Two practice of allotting scarce materials to defense industries.

The government will re-introduce a "controlled materials plan" July 1. It will guarantee the delivery of three basic munitions metals, steel, copper and aluminum, to defense factories.

What's left after the high priority industries are served will go into civilian goods.

Price control authorities said dollars and cents ceilings on meat are due within the next week. This will replace the general freeze to which meat prices are now subject.

Officials said the principal effect may be to bar further rises in price to consumers. No drop in retail prices is expected.

Governor Signs Fish, Game Laws

Harrisburg (AP)—The legal size of pickerel that may be taken from inland waters in Pennsylvania is increased from 12 to 15 inches under a new law signed last by Gov. John S. Fine.

The Governor also signed a new law permitting persons to transport parts of the carcasses of big game without requiring each piece to be tagged with the name of the owner.

Such meat, however, must be available for inspection by any enforcement officer who may require the name and address of the person who shot the game.

Both laws become effective September 1.

Fine Attacks Alternate To Tax Proposal

Harrisburg (AP) — Gov. John S. Fine applied a "makeshift" label yesterday to a non-administration tax program suggested as an alternate to the personal income levy.

Digging into a maze of figures shown in his projected $1,200,000,000 budget for the next two years, the Governor said:

"The simple fact may be repeated—we have been obligated to pay $112,000,00 for which no revenue has been provided. This money and the balance of the $163,000,000 needed for the next biennium can come only from taxes."

So far, Fine's plan for a one-half of one per cent income tax to raise $119,000,000 in the next two years has had rough going in the House. The once-defeated measure was revived Wednesday but the House GOP leadership lacked the necessary 105 votes to put it over decisively.

Fine's special statement attacked a four-part tax program set up by an accounting firm at the direction of Sen. John M. Walker, Republican floor leader.

The proposals called for:

Re-enactment of the cent a bottle soft drink tax, expected to bring in $30,000,000 in two years.

Increase the corporate net income tax from four to five per cent to raise $44,000,000.

Cutting the civil defense appropriation from $20,000,000 to $2,000,000.

Revising anticipated tax revenues at $60,000,000 higher than the figure forecast by the Governor's budget secretary, Dr. Edward B. Logan.

The Governor discussed each phase of the alternative program and agreed only with the corporate net income tax boost. That is also a part of his tax plan.

On soft drink taxes, he said both the Republican and Democratic party platforms last year "spelled out the promise" that the levy should be allowed to die May 31.

At least $20,000,000 is needed for civil defense, he said, so that Pennsylvania can meet emergencies that may arise from enemy attack.

"We should not prune a twig which may cost the life of a tree," said Fine of the civil defense allocation.

On the idea of increasing budget estimates of tax revenues for the next two years, the executive said:

"There is not a shred of evidence on which to base such an estimate."

Federal Marshal Charged With Accepting Bribe

Washington (AP)—The Justice department announced last night that Edwin J. Carrigan, United States Marshal for the Northern district of California has been arrested on bribery charges.

Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGarth said the charges grew out of solicitation and acceptance of a bribe to prevent the removal of a Federal prisoner, Phil Davis, from a prison farm to a Federal penintentiary.

The attorney general also authorized the prosecution of all individuals having any connection with the alleged act of bribery.

AFTER HOUSE AND SENATE Republicans had discussed possible impeachment action against President Truman, for his action of relieving Gen. Douglas MacArthur of all commands, House Minority Leader Joseph Martin Jr. (R-Mass.), at left, and Senate Leader Kenneth S. Wherry (R-Neb.) confer in Washington. Wherry said impeachment demands would be made in House and Senate. Meanwhile Rep. Martin received word from Gen. MacArthur that he would like to address a joint session of Congress and might be home in a few weeks.

MacArthur Family To Leave Monday For Return Trip To United States After 14 Years

Tokyo, Friday, (AP)—General MacArthur and his family will leave here early Monday by plane for Hawaii and San Francisco on a trip home postponed 14 years by war and turbulent peace.

It would be their first journey together since they escaped from Corregidor in the Philippines nine years ago.

The MacArthurs will fly in his famous Constellation "Scap." The exact takeoff time is subject to last minute decision, an aide said, but it now is scheduled for early Monday morning, Japan time.

The "Scap" will fly to Hawaii for an overnight stop and then on to San Francisco.

Where the MacArthurs will go after that was still undisclosed and may not yet be decided, the general's intimates said.

Plans for the trip already have been revised and no definite schedule is yet available.

"It would be a self-contained party able to go anywhere at a moment's notice," one aide said.

Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, the general's closest adviser, and Col. S L. Huff, his senior aide, will accompany the MacArthurs. Both have been intimately associated with MacArthur since prewar days in Manila.

This will be the first flight in the new Constellation for Mrs. MacArthur and 13-year-old Arthur MacArthur, who has never seen the United States. He was born in Manila.

MacArthur conferred last night with his successor, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway. Then Ridgway, former Eighth Army commander, flew back to Korea to direct the United Nations advance. He planned to return to Tokyo in a few days.

"I had a delightful talk with General MacArthur, thanks to his unfailing generosity and courtesy," Ridgway told correspondents in Korea early today.

There still was no comment publicly by MacArthur about his abrupt dismissal by President Truman Wednesday and his future plans.

Representative Martin, House Republican leader, said in Washington:

"There is a possibility that General MacArthur will fly back next week and will be available to address Congress sooner than the three weeks mentioned earlier."

Riots Flare In Iran Oil Field

Tehran, Iran (AP)—Premier Hussein Ala said last night that riots of strickers in the Abandan oil field area broke out yesterday and that one Iranian woman was killed and three Britons were either killed or injured.

Troops and tanks have been sent there, the premier said, and the situation is believed to be under control.

Poor communications between the capital and the oil center prevented getting exact details of the riots at Abandan and the nearby port, Bandur Mashur.

Rand Reports MacArthur To Join Concern

Fort Myers, Fla., (AP)—James H. Rand, president of Remington-Rand, Inc., confirmed last night that Gen. Douglas MacArthur will become an official of the business equipment and typewriter concern.

Rand, aboard his 130-foot yacht, Galaxy, tied up at the Fort Myers yacht basin, said MarArthur would join the firm within 90 days and take an active part in its affairs.

"I understand the general would prefer to make his home in Connecticut and that he has for a long time looked forward to giving his son an opportunity to attend an American school, which heretofore has been impossible," he said.

Rand would not comment on a report published in the Chicago Daily News that MacArthur would receive $100,000 a year.

Fares Increased

New York, (AP) — The State Public Service commission yesterday authorized the Long Island railroad to raise commutation fares 20 per cent, effective April 14.

U. S. Escapes Loss In Great Air Battles

Tokyo, Friday (AP) — Twenty-nine Russian-type planes were reported shot down or damaged over northwest Korea yesterday in history's greatest jet and bomber air battles.

The fighting between enemy and American jets and B-29 bombers developed several days after President Truman warned of a step-up in Red air power to be turned loose from Manchuria bases.

It also came at a time when the Chinese Reds made a puzzling withdrawal in west-central Korea but kept up the resistance elsewhere.

In the ground fighting Allied troops with flame throwers and rockets killed or wounded nearly 2,500 Reds yesterday on their advance deeper into Red North Korea.

On the east-central front powerful Allied searchlights lit up the battlefield south of Hwachon reservoir through last night to pin down the Communists.

Enemy jets pressed their attack on a B-29 bridge-bombing mission with unprecedented fury and determination but there were no reports of American plane losses.

The American jets and B-29s were credited by the Far East Air Force today with destroying eight enemy planes, probably destroying six and crippling 15 in the Thursday fighting.

The Air Force said a recheck thus far showed the B-29 gunners knocked down four enemy jets, probably got four others and damaged one. U. S. jets were credited with four destroyed, two probables and 14 damaged.

Neither the B-29s nor the American jets had ever before made such a score for one day's fighting in the jet-speed era.

Air Force figures showed at least 65 MIGs were engaged in two separate battles with about 100 U. S. jets and 32 big bombers from Japan and Okinawa bases.

The B-29s hit the massive steel and concrete bridge over the Yalu river at Sinuiju on a main route of Red China's supply line to the Korean battlefronts.

The Air Force said the bombers made "the most concentrated interdiction attack of the war."

The bombing was pressed through on schedule in the thick of swirling dogfights and Red anti-aircraft fire.

A flight of 50 or more MIGs swooped on the bombers at the outset. The enemy planes were jumped in turn by masses of F-84 thunderjets and F-86 Sabre jets flying cover for the B-29s.

The bombers themselves joined the fast tactical air battle with their .50-calibre guns shooting at the swishing targets while bombardiers let go the heaviest tonnage of explosives dropped on a bridge during the Korean war.

Ohioan Calls For Aggressive War Against Chinese

Washington (AP)— Republican leaders pressed slam-bang onslaught on the Truman administration last night as General Douglas MacArthur, deposed Far East commander, prepared to fly to the United States Monday.

While Truman supporters continued to insist that the firing of MacArthur was the only thing to do, Republicans accused the administration of leaning toward "appeasment" of Communism and of putting the U. S. in grave danger of a new world war.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) declared in a New York speech that as things now stand world war three cannot be prevented "without an aggressive war against Communist China."

This would mean, he said, assistance to Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist forces to land on the Chinese mainland, plus the bombing of military targets in Manchuria and China. Neither of these steps, he said, would mean any "general war in China."

He said General MacArthur spoke up on foreign policy because of a "justified fear" the United States would end the Korean war by appeasement.

"If the original sending of American troops to Korea was to prevent World War Three, as the President said Wednesday night, then that purpose has been long completely lost from sight," Taft said.

"It cannot now be accomplished without an aggressive war against Communist China and punishment of the aggressor, as the North Koreans were punished."

President Truman declared Wednesday night that he fired MacArthur because he feared the general's policies would spread the war beyond Korea into a general conflagration. MacArthur wanted stronger measures against the Red Chinese, while the President's declared policy is to limit operations to Korea, teach the foe a lesson there and hope he will make peace.

But Senator Wherry, of Nebraska, Republican floor leader, charged last night that it is the Truman administration, not MacArthur, which is risking world war. He said in a radio speech that the "zigzag, inept foreign policy" of the President and Secretary of State Acheson has brought the nation to the brink of a land war with Russia which would mean "wanton destruction" of untold American lives.

Wherry said the "bayonet generals who dominate the Pentagon" are frittering away the nation's manpower resources by concentrating on preparations for a land war in Europe against overwhelming Russian hordes. Air power should have first priority, Wherry said.

Paying tribute to MacArthur, Wherry said the "pygmies" cannot bring down "this giant, this tower of strength and deserving idol of the American people."

Senator Welker (R-Idaho) told the Senate Mr. Truman should step out of the White House and give Vice President Barkley a chance "to restore unity and confidence" in the country.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif) declared Acheson "should resign or be removed by the President" because the American people "no longer have confidence in him."

Senator Robertson (D-Va) came to the President's defense saying MacArthur deliberately forced the issue "of who should be in charge of our foreign policy in the Far East." He said MacArthur knew the meaning of insubordination and had forced Mr. Truman to act.

Senator Morse (R-Ore) declared the President had a constitutional right to remove MacArthur.

"God help the American people," he said, "if the day ever comes when we do not retain civilian control over the military."

Morse rebuked his colleagues who have talked of impeaching Mr. Truman. He said the only grounds for impeachment are treason, bribery or other high crimes or misdemeanors.

MacArthur Jokes With Magnuson About Dismissal

Washington (AP) — Senator Magnuson (D-Wash) told this one by radio from Tokyo last night:

He dropped in at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters earlier in the day to get some anti-typhoid injections from medical officers, and encountered MacArthur.

Said Magnuson: "I just dropped in to get a couple of shots."

Said MacArthur, laughing: "I just got one."

Sen. McCarthy Blames Power 'Of Bourbon'

Washington (AP)— Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) said yesterday President Truman's firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur "not only was a victory for Communism but shows the midnight power of bourbon and benedictine."

McCarthy said in his opinion Mr. Truman "didn't know what he was doing" when he ousted the five-star general"; that those "around the President evidently had time to get him cheerful" before he acted.

A reporter asked McCarthy if he was contending Mr. Truman acted under the influence of liquor.

"No, I do not mean that," McCarthy said. "I simply mean that he always seems to wait until late at night to issue orders and write letters. The country would be better off if he didn't do those things at night."

McCarthy called the President "just an unimportant and unintelligent little fellow who is pulled on the string of those around him." He said he was talking about "the old Acheson-Hiss crowd."

He told a reporter the President is "not the really vicious part of the circle around him." McCarthy added:

"He is just a man of a little mind who is under the hypnotic influence of those around him."

Mac Ouster Splits Citizenry

The big question: "Do you think President Truman acted wisely when he dismissed General MacArthur and what was your reaction?

The big answer: "Yes! . . . No! . . . I'm not sure yet . . . I was shocked when I read the news!"

This was a cross-section of local opinion yesterday from both adults and students. Their answers ran from luke warm to red hot.

They had a variety of reasons. For the most part, however, they all expressed a great respect for the 71-year-old general and the work he has done in the Pacific.

Many admitted at first they were yelling for the President's scalp. As one man exclaimed: "All my wife kept telling me all day Wednesday was 'They oughta impeach him and make Mac president.' Now, she's simmered down."

And this is the way many of the persons questioned yesterday expressed themselves. "There's a lot more we have to learn about it," one man admitted.

Stroudsburg's Chief Burgess Hal H. Harris, in recalling the incident, declared: "I think it was perfect. There was nothing left for Truman to do but let him out.

"In every walk of life a man must take orders from his superiors. MacArthur failed, and Truman was left in an embarrassing position. It was the only avenue out Truman had . . . and it was perfectly right and proper."

John R. Wilson, general secretary of the YMCA, said:

"I like MacArthur and I think he has a right to his opinions, but I also think he overstepped his bounds. I think it would have been better for him to resign and give his opinions. The incident may bring a re-vamping of the whole policy in Korea."

Franklin E. Weller, commander of the Thomas P. Lambert Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, looked at the incident from another angle:

"It stands to reason a man who has been over there 14 years would know more about the problems in that theater. If you're to guide an army as supreme commander, you have to do it in the field, not from a desk and you cannot delay because of executive pressures."

Two ladies, talking over the news in a soda shop, simply declared: "We just don't think it's right." They declined to give their names.

Said William P. Deering, president of Stroudsburg Lions club: "MacArthur sought world war three; Truman seeks to prevent it altogether. This officer's attitude gave aid and comfort to our Communist foes. The President made one error. He waited too long . . . He should have fired MacArthur six months ago."

A man serving with the U. S. armed forces, who requested his name be withheld, stated:

"I respect Mac as a great military leader. But in this case Truman was right. Mac has policies all his own and they are not the ones adopted by the President and a majority of the members of U. N."

Deputy Sheriff Grover C. Hay was emphatic:

"I think it was the most mean and unjust thing that could have

Mr. Hall explained the functioning of clubs. With James Cadue of Tobyhanna, the deputy governor sang a duet, "My Grandfather's Clock".

Mr. Shotwell's Mandate

The Fine administration, with considerable aid from G. Mason Owlett's forces, whipped the boys in line to revive the individual income tax Wednesday for another vote next week.

Using all sorts of pressure plus some plain and fancy "deals" the income tax forces won 115-91 to have the measure "reconsidered."

The unsuspecting public was handed the obvious "pap" that an income tax is better than a sales tax. As we have frequently pointed out, we are against both the income tax and the sales tax.

What we are for is a complete review of the Fine budget to enforce economies. We want re-estimates of income sources to bring them out of the conservative to the maximum figures. We don't think either a sales tax or an income tax is necessary.

Too many people have been sold the idea that one or the other is essential. Too many people are sold on the idea that economy in government is impossible.

A sales tax, in addition to socking everybody even those who buy only the bare necessities of life, would place the economy of Monroe county in an extremely bad competitive position.

We are so close to New Jersey that we attract thousands of dollars worth of business from that region. A sales tax would effectively kill it.

An income tax—they tell you one-half of one per cent "will not amount to much"—would be on all income of all people except a few receiving public assistance or Social Security.

The real danger of a flat income tax is that once enacted it will open the door to increase after increase, year after year.

Once again the solid Democratic minority group voted together against reconsideration of the income tax measure. Fourteen of 19 Republicans of the House, who last week voted against the income tax because of appeals from thousands of their constituents, changed their posiiton and voted to reconsider the tax.

One of these was Rep. John S. Shotwell (R-Monroe). No one will deny he was placed under pressure, but he still has a vote on the income tax bill next week, or a sales tax measure later.

He has the rare opportunity to prove early in his service to ALL the people of Monroe county that he can be consistent.

As a former wage earner and now as a business operator in his own right, he knows both a sales tax and an income tax are dangerous burdens to be thrust on the people of Monroe county.

In addition, Mr. Shotwell has a clear mandate from the people of Monroe county which he should respect.

His vote could decide the issue of both these obnoxious tax proposals. You have not only the right, but the duty, to bolster his stand for economy in government and against further taxation. Call, see or write him today.

Our System Works

Most Americans know they own the bulk of the world's autos. But they may not be up-to-date on the details. They —the details—are interesting.

The world had a record-breaking total of 68,695,200 autos, buses and trucks in operation at the beginning of 1951, according to a census taken by two McGraw-Hill publications. Of this total number, the American people own 48,057,945, and their varioius governmental units a half-million more.

For one thing, close to 37 per cent of the vehicles abroad are trucks and buses. Many more are taxicabs. And, in most foreign lands, more than half the passenger cars registered are used for business.

It doesn't seem necessary to point out the moral of this statistical tale.

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—"Kon-Tiki," a movie record of 4,300 miles on a wind and tide-driven raft, is amateur photography with a professional wallop.

Five Norwegians and a Swede set themselves adrift from Peru on a balsa-and-bamboo raft. They are investigating the theory of their leader, a zoologist and ethnologist, that ancient South Americans were the raft-borne settlers of the South Sea islands. After 105 perilious days they crash land on a tiny island.

This fascinating movie was assembled from film shot by the adventurers while their expedition was in progress. Background music and sea-sound effects have been unobtrusively added. The film is narrated by Thor Heyerdahl, expedition leader and author of the best-selling book account of the voyage.

The movie is exciting because it goes into details and lets them speak for themselves without Hollywood trimmings.

The raft was built, for example, from a design that was 900 years old in Columbus' time. The musty design was found among relics of the Spanish conquistadores. The logs were lashed together with ropes such as the ancient Peruvians would have used. Not a nail or bolt was employed.

Ocean currents curving northwestward from South America, plus the ceaseless trade winds, carried the raft at an average speed of 42½ miles per day. Flying fish, landing aboard, provided excellent breakfasts. Whales charged at the raft like speeding locomotives, diving underneath at the last instant. A whale shark with a mouth five feet wide was a nerve-racking escort for a time. A voyager wrote his records in octopus ink. Portable radio advised the world of Kon-Tiki's whereabouts. The raft was named for the sun god of ancient Peru. It's a picture for your should -see list.

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

The Crime Against MacArthur

The President's dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur may prove to be as great a military victory for Soviet Russia as Stalingrad and as great a diplomatic victory as Yalta.

General Douglas MacArthur did not make the Korean war. Every step he took after V-J day (August 14, 1945) has been designed to prevent just such a war. He sought to build an East Asian league of nations, including Nationalist China, which would be a bulwark against the advancing might of Soviet Russia in that vastly populated area of the world. He realized early that our policy in China was ill-conceived and without reality.

He supported the Wedemeyer reports on China and Korea—reports which would have saved us from our current grief. MacArthur did not believe that Korea could be held by the United States on the terms arranged at Teheran and Yalta, but when on June 25, 1950, he was ordered into war there by President Truman and Dean Acheson, he undertook to save the glory of the American flag with his eyes blindfolded and at least one hand tied behind his back.

Within a few days he discovered that he was not an American commander, but a United Nations commander. He discovered that unlike any other commanding general in the field, his decisions were subject to the approval of a vast congress of nations, large and small, among whom are our enemies, Soviet Russia and Poland, to mention only two.

He also discovered that Great Britain with as much responsibility as we have to maintain treaty obligations and the integrity of the United Nations, was engaged in a weird strategy which included three divergent and contradictory factors:

1. To send token troops to fight in the Korean war;

2. To oppose such second-front tactics as might be useful, as, for instance, support of Nationalist China and the Anti-Communist guerrillas on the mainland;

3. To use all efforts, including their effective propaganda agencies, to limit the Korean war to a stalemated, targetless action with the view that American aid and largesse might not be diverted from Europe to Asia.

And in conjunction with this, MacArthur discovered that India, just freed from the British Raj, emerged as a Soviet spokesman, the reason for this unusual demarche being the Cashmir and other antagonisms against Pakistan, Nehru seeking Russian support in his struggle against Moslems in India. On all sides he saw the United States being sacrificed while American sons were being killed.

War is unpleasant under any circumstances: it becomes a horror when the commanding general is being stabbed in the back and the troops under him are being sacrificed on the altar of political necessities. No general wants his men to die for nothing.

All this, General MacArthur, in his round-about language to Congressman Joe Martin, has made clear to the American people. It is a pity that General MacArthur had to use such means as letters to congressmen and private individuals to break through his muzzling by the Pentagon and the state department. He wanted his own people to know that it is impossible to bring this Korean war to a victorious end. For this, he has ben dismissed on the basis of insubordination.

As a military man, he knows that what the geniuses in Washington want to do is ridiculous, impossible. They want to play an unending game of tag, with nobody getting hurt except the troops there. The plan is the loquacious dream of gentle personalities who have a great capacity for loving the enemy. Their confusion arises from a lack of focus; they are global in their outlook, without anchorage in the United States of America. They do not quite know whether they really prefer the American system of life or any other. Acheson and Marshall accept British policy because they cannot devise a policy of their own.

To a man of MacArthur's training and history, these men must appear like curiosities, more perilous than a fighting enemy, for lacking cohesion of thought, they move simultaneously in different directions which at times make them appear to be miasmic.

The crime against General Douglas MacArthur has been that he has been given responsibility but he has not been permitted to win a war or to tell America why we are failing in a war. No man could have held such a position too long with dignity and honor.

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Washington—The United States should withdraw all U. S. troops from Korea immediately. The death of one additional American boy will be a senseless tragedy and a useless sacrific to the most brazen sell-out of Americal principles in the nation's history.

President Truman's orders firing Gen. Douglas MacArthur, marked the complete success of a plan engineered by Secretary of State Dean Acheson and the British government for the total control of Asia by Communist forces under Moscow direction.

The British, so pleased over the presidential axing of Gen. MacArthur, could not even wait until the general departs from Japan before tipping their hand. In a brief announcement the Socialist government stated that the Chinese Communists, whose troops are killing Americans in Korea at this moment, should be invited to the council tables to help decide the Japanese peace treaty.

Gen. MacArthur has been a giant in the path of Communist infiltration for control of Japan. He long ago cuffed military and diplomatic representatives of the Soviet Union in Japan into submission. He has time and again refused even to discuss Soviet participation in Japanese matters.

Now that the general has fallen, the British have leaped into the breach with their sell-out proposal. This is naturally what Secretary of State Acheson has had in the back of his mind all along. Shortly more than a year ago Acheson was nibbling at American resistance to seating Communist Chinese delegates at the U. N. Only the Korean war stopped the Secretary of State from persuading the docile Mr. Truman to approve the plan.

Today, as it has been all along, American boys are facing death from Communist hordes while their diplomatic representatives stab them in the back by negotiating to turn Asia over to Russia.

There is no other conclusion that can be reached, except that the Acheson foreign policy, which Gen. MacArthur fought and lost his job over, is to invite a Russianized China into the decent society of nations.

To ask American soldiers to continue risking their lives in the face of this official governmental betrayal is worse than asininity. Why should American soldiers fight Communist soldiers when U. S. and British diplomats are rolling out the red carpet for Communist Chinese diplomats?

While totally ignoring pleas from Gen. MacArthur, from the Congress of the United States and from the American people, that Chinese Nationalist troops on Formosa be used in the Korean war, the State department and the British government are negotiating to turn over Formosa to the Communists. Formosa is a massive rock in the path of total Communist control in Asia. Acheson and the British government are convinced that it must be submerged. Instead of using Chiang Kai-Shek's troops to help ease the burden on American fighting men, the plan is to sacrifice them to Communist control and Soviet-type purges and execution stakes.

MacArthur is confident that Communist China can be beaten to her knees. He has asserted that only this can save Asia from being Sovietized. President Truman, Acheson and the British know this also. But instead of ordering MacArthur to fight and win the war, he is relieved of his command. Now, of course, tighter restrictions will be placed on the military operations in Korea to give the diplomats a chance to negotiate the betrayal to a predestined conclusion.

This fact makes the further sacrifice of American lives in Korea senseless. What are Americans fighting for now in Korea? It has already been decided that the Chinese Communists will be invited to take part in all Asian affairs, that Chiang Kai-Shek and his forces are to be obliterated,

MacArthur

(The Story Behind the Story)

The greatest scandal in American history is now out in the open. The scandal is not the dismissal of General MacArthur; it is the Foreign Policy which made it inevitable . . . General MacArthur and Secretary Acheson are only symbols in a titanic struggle going on behind the scenes. The forces which caused MacArthur's dismissal are not in Washington. They are in London . . . The Administration, faced with the breakup of the Atlantic Pact by Great Britain unless it appeases Red China, took the step of double appeasement (of both Moscow and London) by firing MacArthur.

These are the facts: Secretary Acheson, as recently as last Summer, attempted to honor his secret commitment to Great Britain to recognize Red China and admit her to the United Nations. He is on record as stating we would not veto Red China if she succeeded in getting a majority vote. Great Britain, as Red China's floor-leader, attempted to get that majority . . . As another step, Secretary Acheson initiated a deliberate program to play down the importance of Formosa. Senator Knowland of California produced documentary evidence that Sec'y Acheson had secretly instructed all State Dep't policy-makers to minimize the strategic importance of Formosa. In short, the Chinese Nationalist government, by secret agreement between the U. S. and Britain, was to be thrown to the wolves. American public opinion stopped this also. MacArthur, of course, opposed it throughout.

The President and Secretary Acheson, until public opinion reversed them, took the view that since Asia has no industry—that continent would never be a factor in the next war . . . The Acheson formula called for the virtual abandoment of Asia . . . It was, of course, heavily supported by those who believe Communism can be appeased. The American public did not subscribe to the view. It became impossible for the Administration to force its secret agreement through the Senate . . . After practically declaring Korea could not be defended, the President ordered the troops in when Acheson's appeasement failed again . . . The same action followed in Indo-China. After refusing arms, the President sent them.

The reason Great Britain is desperate is that Red China is even more so . . . The whole of South China is in a virtual state of insurrection. Guerrillas, to the extent of more than a million, are in operation on the Chinese mainland. Until Formosa is liquidated, until Chiang's army is out of existence, Red China will always be on the brink of civil war. The Reds realize this so much that they are prepared to vacate South China, if attacked there . . . Thus, Formosa and Chiang Kai-shek are at the heart of the Far East question, and not Korea . . . MacArthur favors using him. Acheson's commitments to Great Britain forbid it . . . As an example, a shipment of rubber is being loaded at Singapore. Destination: The Red Forces.

MacArthur, contrary to the general impression, is within his rights even as a soldier in defying the President. His oath is to the Constitution and to the men under his command. If he deems the orders of his superiors in conflict with them, he is under a duty to make known his objections. The President, by the same token, has a right to relieve him, but he cannot punish him . . . Under the Constitution General MacArthur cannot be dishonorably dismissed from the United States Army for adhering to his oath to the Constitution as he sees it.

It is well that the struggle is at last out in the open . . . The deadlock of the forces behind the scene was strangling the nation . . . Because the truth is that, while MacArthur has just been relieved by the President, the United States Senate has long ago dismissed Secretary Acheson for all practical purposes . . . Acheson is Secretary of State in title only, by whim of the President, and not by will of the people . . . Both the Democratic and Republican Senate leaderships have repudiated him. They have put all foreign nations on notice that the Secretary is without power to reach any agreement without their consent. And that consent is not forthcoming.

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Brandeis

Ever since I published that letter from the Baytown, Texas woman who criticized me for saying I didn't think we would have a third World War in the near future, I have been flooded with mail on the subject.

The writer from Texas asked "You say you don't think we will have a third world war. Will you please telf me what our boys are doing in Korea?"

Most of the letters commenting on the question comes from mothers who have sons in Korea. Almost all of them are critical. Almost unanimously the writers feel that the whole business has been messed up inexeusably.

With one exception my correspondents voice their anger at the United Nations for its complete ineffectiveness, its lack of courage and its insincerity.

"One of the most loud-mouthed long-distance-talkers," writes one woman, "is the delegate from Egypt. He preaches morality with crocodile tears in his eyes, while his King makes a sorry spectacle of immorality of himself."

Another sends a clipping of a story telling that the General Assembly will hold its next meeting in Paris at an extra expense of $2,350,000 over what it would have cost to meet in New York.

"I guess they can have a better time in Paris," she comments. "Why not, since the United States will pay almost a million of that 'extra' to amuse those delegates?

"It seems to me that they could have enough fun just sitting here in New York and making suckers out of us."

Another correspondent sends an editorial about the U. N.'s Economic and Social Council and its recent junket to Chile.

"It could have met at Lake Success," says a part of the editorial which she underlines, "but New York's winters can be dreadful, while February and March in Chile are delightful."

According to the article 330 U. N. people were flown the 6000 miles to Chile and "to do it up brown, they took along with them also by air:

"700 portable short-wave radios; 10 mimeograph machines; 75 typewriters—and many other things, including several hundred cases of documents, weighing tons.

"Suites and rooms were taken in eight hotels for the delegates, their advisers, consultants and consultants' advisers, plus secretaries for all. Headquarters were set up in the Carerra, Santiago's swankiest hotel, which boasts a roof-top swimming pool."

"And then what do you think they discovered? They found that Santiago's electric current was the wrong voltage so all the imported apparatus had to be adapted!

"Estimated cost of the whole fandango was $500,000 of which the Chilean government put up $150,000."

What was accomplished: Slave labor was studied, except that in the iron curtain countries. "And where else in the world" ends the editorial, "is there slave labor?"

Just one more item sent to me: It is a press dispatch, coming directly from United Nations headquarters:

"A list of member contributions showed today that Paraguay has kicked in five cents during the past two years. That, experts say, is just enough to keep the South American country from losing its voting privileges—the fate of any member which skips paying anything for two years.

"The nickel was a credit from an earlier overpayment."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Whaddaya Mean, "Man or Beast"

The circus season everywhere is presaged by the run of Ringling Brothers' in Madison Square Garden, New York. With its color, gaiety and daring, how refreshing a circus seems after a winter of scandals, "fixes," crime sensations, spy trials, double-talkers and general shabbiness! It seems like the one thing untouched by 10 per centers, gimme-gimme boys, chiselers, artful dodgers, perjurers, mobsters and characters whose courage runs out in the presence of an honest query and a video camera.

This would be a swell year to run off with a circus. The joy of getting away from a world of crooken politicians, racketeers, gyps, traitors, corrupt government agencies and all-around operators in crime would be terrific. It is a pleasing fact that while you see all sorts of animals in a circus you find no rats or pige.

We have been spending a few hours every night in the Ringling menagerie. It is refreshing to walk up and down before the cages and observe the comparative decency, dignity, poise and overall high standards of animal behavior. The African lions and Bengal tigers seem much more trustworthy than countless human beings paraded in the news for the past six months. The hyena has always struck us as a particular menace, but this spring he seems nearer to being on the level than many hoodlums and their ever-ready barristers. We never fancied the black panther, but we feel certain he wouldn't take refuge behind, "I refuse to answer on the ground it might tend to incriminate and degrade me."

The slinky puma has never been one of our pets, but we have been studying the circus specimens carefully and are positive a carload of 'em would be less dangerous to any community than a similar cargo of finagling politicians, corrupt public servants and 1951 model heels. You can stare into the eyes of a wildcat for hours and find nothing in its expression or manner half so shifty, hard and tricky as you saw in the demeanor of dozens of witnesses before the Kefauver committee. Can you imagine a leopard ever needing a lawyer in any situation?

We put in some time in front of the gorilla cage. A big, ugly gorilla looks pretty companionable this year. It shows no interest in money. Somehow we can't imagine a gorilla exposed as having had a wonderful time gyping taxpayers, selling drugs to kids and things like that. To one ape we whispered, "How'd you like to buy some trucks from the Government for a couple hundred dollars and sell 'em back to the Government for $3,500? Its disgust and resentment was obvious. We asked a keeper about elephants. Whenever a "rogue" elephant is found in the herd it is quickly separated and put where it can do no harm. (No long drawn-out legal proceedings, no search for loopholes, no appeals, no briefs, no $2 fines!)

The circus brings back an air of wholesomeness, charm, and decency. There is this to be said of the big top: it never corrupted a child or had to be probed by juvenile delinquency students. The performers offer quite a fine example today. They made it the hard way, and at the risk of life and limb twice a day. The Man on the Flying Trapeze is infinitely more inspiring than the Public Servant in the Revolving Grabbag, the Mobster on the Public Neck and the Fixer in the Rotating Basketball Victory. Lemme hear that circus band!

Commuter's Local

Hoes and spades of every style
Sticking out into each aisle . . .
Bags of lime and bulbs and grain
On the seats in every train . . .
In each coach aromas queer—
Spring beyond all doubt is here!

Washington's famous cherry trees blossomed early this spring. And without anybody charging influence or a "fix."

Line of the month (from The Big Show): There is no money in money any more.

You don't really know what inflation is until you price grass seed this year. We went for a salt-cellar full yesterday and had to have the deal financed.

Vanishing Americanisms

"Keep calm, cool, and collected."

"Your government knows what it's doing."

"Anybody can save money if he tries."

James B. Walsh has been named special counsel to the New York City Crime Commission in its probe. In the hope everything will come out all right in the Walsh, as the saying goes.

Teachers Express Reaction To Board's New Salary Schedule

Resolutions Point Up Disapproval

Stroudsburg Board of Education last night received a list of five resolutions adopted by the Stroudsburg Teachers association outlining the group's reaction to the salary schedule recently set by the board.

The resolutions were officially adopted by the association during its meeting last Monday. They were signed by Mrs. Lillian M. Fanseen, president of the association, and James T. Anthony III, secretary.

The five resolutions, as read to the board by President Warren F. Loney, are:

One—"Inasmuch as the board of education is legally empowered to set salaries as it sees fit, so long as they pay the State mandated minimum salary, and inasmuch as the board has made it clear their action is definite and final, we are inevitably forced to accept our salaries as set for the term 1951-52.

Two—"It is recommended that this group record in its minutes a unanimous protest against the manner in which the salaries were arrived at. We therefore express our disappointment in and disapproval of the way in which the Board of Education treated the recommendations of our salary committee.

Three—"It is recommended we protest the kind of publicity which indicated that most teachers are to receive an increase of $500 when in reality only six teachers are to receive such an increase.

Four—"It is recommended that we indicate that our organization is not going to be satisfied with this type of action and that we will concertedly act toward more equitable salary-fixing in the interests of betther education for Stroudsburg.

Five—"It is recommended that this group elect a representative or representatives to attend all future board meetings and report proceedings back to the group."

Board members accepted the list of resolutions and moved they be recorded in the minutes.

It was also agreed the salaries of Stroudsburg teachers be published. This will be done after the State Legislature takes action on the salary and subsidy proposals being supported by the Pennsylvania State Education association.

Passage of the salary proposal would necessitate a change in the present salary schedule, which cannot be permanently fixed until the State takes this action.

Robert Cyphers Walks Off With First Prize At Fair

Tannersville—Robert Cyphers, Pocono High school sophomore, took first place in the school's annual science fair which is now in progress at the local school.

His winning exhibit was a two-way inter-communications system which he devised.

The three-day fair, which will end today, is under the direction of George Learn, science, chemistry and geography teacher. The six winners will automatically be eligible to enter the annual Wyckoff-Sears Science fair.

Second prize went to Wilmer Metzger and Avon Doll, seniors, for their automatic transmission entry. Jane Bowman, junior, took third prize for her exhibit of North American snakes in their natural setting.

Three honorable prize ribbons were presented to Stanley Roeber for his entry of cuts from trees; Alvin Kresge, auto distributor; Lawrence Peechatka, wind resistance of new model and old model automobiles.

Exhibits were placed under the headings of biology, chemistry, physics and engineering.

Some of the exhibits include pictures of the heart, digestive tract, sense organs. One exhibit shows the skelton of a chicken, another is an "explosion chamber" which really works.

In all there were 63 exhibits in the fair.

been done at this time—one of the worst incidents in the history of our government."

He further charged that President Truman "is apparently listening to a pack of poor advisers" hanging close by at Washington. "Truman is and has been rejecting good thinking men in his own party," the deputy concluded.

Reactions across the street at Monroe county court house were evident, although few of the persons employed there cared to make a public comment. One woman secretarial employe said: "I'd like to give you a quote, but I guess I better not."

Mrs. Mary Strunk, of 804 Monroe St., a transcriber in the register and recorder's office, didn't hesitate, however. "I think MacArthur is a great leader," she said.

"I hope they put him back in. My husband worked in his headquarters during the second world war. I never heard of this Van Fleet before (Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet who succeeds General Ridgway in Korea).

Mrs. Dolores Decker, of 120 Linden St., another transcriber, said:

"What I'd like to know is why Truman appointed Ridgway. If this is UN warfare, why doesn't the UN name its own leaders?"

Mrs. LaDora Bolear, 17 Fetherman St., PMA secretary, had this comment:

"The people probably don't know all the facts. This MacArthur affair undoubtedly has been brewing for a long time. Truman must have had reason for his action."

Teacher Resigns

Stroudsburg board of education last night accepted the resignation of Raymond P. Harding, Pennsylvania and U. S. history teacher at the high school.

In his letter of resignation Mr. Harding stated he had received an "attractive" offer which he did not wish to let pass by.

He asked to be released at the termination of the present term. Directors agreed unanimously.

The financial statement, which was approved, included: general fund balance, $73,449.47; coupon account balance, $656.25; sinking fund balance, $91.79; U. S. Treasury bonds at cost, $52,488.50.

A total of $5,774.91 in bills were paid.

School directors also discussed next year's budget and insurance to be taken out on the district's three buildings.

Those present on the board were Warren F. Loney, president; Mrs. Katherine E. Koehler; Dr. Marshall R. Metzgar, Dr. Claus G. Jordan, Norman O. Bender and Joseph S. Wallace.

Trial Of Three Young Men On Morals Charge Opens In Northampton County Court

Easton—Joseph Rafter, Joseph Jones and Thomas Sines, three 23-year-old Philadelphia men charged with the common law rape of a 16-year-old East Stroudsburg girl, went on trial here yesterday in Northampton county court.

Two other defendants, one of them an East Stroudsburg juvenile, were granted a severance as the trial hearing commenced before Judge William E. Frack.

Northampton county's district attorney Jacob A. Raub said last night the juvenile and Peter Critikos, 22, another Philadelphian, who attended East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, will be tried separately after the present trial is concluded.

Asked if they would be tried as accessories, he answered that they've been indicted on the full charge and will be tried on that charge.

The trial opened yesterday with Elias Spengler, first assistant district attorney from Bath, appearing for the Commonwealth. The three defendants were represented by Atty. Charles Hogan, Northampton county criminal lawyer, and two other attorneys, one of whom is from the Philadelphia bar.

Atty. Elmer D. Christine, of Stroudsburg, appeared as counsel for the juvenile.

Six witnesses, including the girl, her mother and father, Dr. Evan C. Reese, of Monroe County General hospital; Mrs. Clinton Diehl, of Stokes Mills, and the juvenile, testified yesterday, although none of the defendants was called.

Mrs. Diehl testified concerning the girl's condition when she came to her home after the escapade on the morning of February 25. She said she called the girl's parents and that they later called Dr. Nina M. Price, East Stroudsburg physician.

Dr. Reese read the court an examination report he made at General hospital after examining the girl on February 25.

Photographs made at the East Stroudsburg police station by Roderick G. MacLeod, Stroudsburg photographer, were also introduced by District Attorney Spengler. These were admitted as evidence and shown to the jury of three men and nine women.

The juvenile took the witness stand late in the afternoon, but the court adjourned until 9:30 a. m. today soon after he started testifying.

Three Hurt In Collision Of Two Cars

Tannersville — Three Tannersville area residents, one of them a 17-year-old girl, were injured in a two-car collision which took place at 5:30 p. m. yesterday on Route 611 in front of Metzgar's market.

Miss Joan A. Transue, who was driving a 1946 sedan owned by Alvin Transue, of Tannersville, made a lefthand turn off the highway and collided with a 1941 machine owned and operated by Fred Kresge Jr., 26, also of Tannersville.

Kresge was driving northward on the highway at the time, while Miss Transue had been proceeding southward before making the turn toward the parking area at the market, according to Pfc. Edward Beneski, who investigated for Stroudsburg State police.

Miss Transue, Kresge and John Roeber, of Scotrun, a passenger ni the Kresge car, were all taken to Monroe County General hospital in a private automobile.

Miss Transue sustained a sprained left arm, Kresge received abrasions of the forehead and a sprained back and Roeber, who was thrown forward in his seat by the impact of the collision sustained lacerations of the lips.

All three were treated at the hospital and later discharged.

Damages were estimated in excess of $250.

More April Showers Due Here Today

Rain will continue to wet down areas in the Monroe county locale early today, according to Weatherman Michael Hannon.

Business News In Monroe Area

Samuel Miller, Delaware Water Gap, former painting contractor and car salesman, this week completed details of ownership and operation of a small restaurant and tap room at 200 Park Ave., Stroudsburg.

The Business Review of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia said yesterday in a discussion of "spasmodic spending":

People are unpredictable. Last summer when the war broke out they rushed to the stores and bought heavily but selectively.

The buying boom faded out almost as fast as it flared up but it quickened the forces of inflation.

Last winter another and a bigger wave of buying swept through the stores. Fearful of shortages and higher prices and higher taxes, people laid up stocks of all kinds of merchandise.

Again the tide turned as spending receded, with expanding defense production and rising personal income, there may be more flurries of spasmodic spending.

Summing up current business trends in the Third Federal Reserve district, which includes Monroe county, the bank said they were mixed during February.

Manufacturing production was stable, department store sales declined, and bank loans expanded.

James Walsh, head of the repair department of all stores of Community Jewelers organization, is spending today and Saturday at Community Jewelers, 601 Main St., Stroudsburg, for specialized service to local customers.

Convention time again, and we no sooner get one group of delegates back from AAUW than another takes off for Music club or Eastern Star, or something.

And all of them come back full of enthusiasm for the organization and for their club's part in it, and then try to import some of that enthusiasm to the folks at home who've been thinking of everything else but.

Everybody ought, at least once in their life, experience a big convention. You can't understand, otherwise, what a feeling you get of belonging to something big and significent. And nobody else can tell you.

Pageant Of Year Marks Club Birthday

Tannersville—The Pocono Garden club met at the firehouse on Tuesday, April 10, with Mrs. B. H. Granacher presiding. She opened the meeting with the following quotation "Nature is God's green growing volume. What beauty in the world and how God's love is revealed to each one of us in lake and hills and in the budding of the trees, yes, in the flowers of the field we see God's work."

There were fifty-two members and six visitors present, including Arthur Ifft, the county agent, and Misses Mary Ann Eckle and Emma Jean Fellencer, of Stroudsburg High school, the latter two operating the projector showing the film on "Cancer". An offering was taken later in the meeting for the Cancer fund and $14. was realized for this purpose.

Revised copies of the by-laws were distributed to members present and additional copies are available for anyone who does not have them. Marjorie Canfield reported on the tablecloth committee.

Mrs. A. H. Mathiasen extended an invitation from the Monroe County club to any member wishing to join the excursion to the Brooklyn Botanical Gardens on May 17.

Mrs. Ruth Howell, of the program committee, who had planned special features for this 15th anniversary meeting, gave a brief history of the club which was organized in April, 1936, at Scotrun with 13 members. The club now has about 150 members and is steadily increasing in numbers.

Local AAUW Represented At Convention

Mrs. Henry Slaboski, president of the local branch of the American Association of University Women, and Mrs. Neal D. Coberly last night arrived home from four days at the national convention at Atlantic City. They were part of 1,000 delegates at the sessions devoted to the theme "Freedom — Our Responsibility." The American Association of University Women yesterday adopted a lobbying program that includes support for the United Nations and Federal aid to education.

Another item called for "a constructive foreign policy which would endeavor to develop conditions favorable to democracy and economic wellbeing throughout the world."

Critics of the program termed parts of it "so vague that it's practically meaningless."

Mrs. Norris F. Krohn of Oshkosh, Wis., cited the "constructive foreign policy" plank. She said backers of any policy could argue that it had this effect, "be it right, left or middle-of-the road."

A small minority group had claimed since the convention began on Sunday that the program was so broadly worded as to allow AAUW leaders to give it a left wing slant.

The Oshkosh delegation claimed many issues backed by the organization's lobbyist would not have the specific support of its 115,000 members.

An attempt by the Oshkosh delegationn earlier today to have the program limited to items initiated in local branches was overwhelmingly voted down. Opposition to other parts of the program folded after this defeat.

The association announced election of Dr. Susan B. Riley of Nashville, Tenn., as president for the next four years. An English professor at George Peabody College, Dr. Riley headed a slate which was not contested for any office.

In its legislative program, the association voted for a measure to give "independent status to the U. S. office of education." The office is now under the Federal Security administration.

The committee now has $250 in its treasury, which it is saving until needed.

PTA Contributes To Band Fund At Pocono High

Problems Of Home, School To Be Shared

Parents, teachers and students will have a chance to get in the discussion on "Mutual Problems of Home and School" to be featured at the meeting of the Stroudsburg Parent-Teachers association on Monday night at the high school.

Arranged by Mrs. Harold Flagler, J. L. Cohen and Samuel O. Wells, the program will center around the findings of research done by Mr. Wells. Such items as out-of-pocket cost to parents in school; exploitation of students; out-of-school activities and related subjects.

After the presentation, a panel of students selected by the student council will answer questions rising out of the findings. Selected to represent their respective classes are Ann Stevenson, Jack Howitt, Michael Sharlot and Ann Nitrauer.

Following the program, refreshments will be served. Mrs. Charles Cincotta, Mrs. M. S. Baldwin, Mrs. Harry Bolich and Mrs. Allen Barnes will compose the refreshment committee; and Mrs. Kenneth Barthold, and Mrs. Britten Allen. Mrs. John Bailey is hospitality chairman.

Pocono Twp. Organization Plans Election

Tannersville—An organization of Pocono township taxpayers is expected to elect officers at a meeting to be held at the Pocono township school here at 8 p. m. Saturday, according to an announcement made yesterday.

The taxpayers' organization, which has been advocating the appointment of a township police officer and the establishment of a school zone on busy Route 611, will hear a report from a nominating committee appointed at the last general meeting held in early March.

At that time, it was also voted to present a petition signed by a large group of taxpayers to township supervisors as the first step in pressing for the appointment of the police officer.

The petition was placed in the hands of the supervisors at a supervisors' meeting held last Wednesday, and it is understood that the supervisors took the matter under advisement.

Report on this issue, and another on plans for marking "school zone" signs on Route 611 near the township school are also expected Saturday night.

Arch Long acted as chairman pro tem at the March meeting of the group, while Charles Van Sciver was acting secretary. The late Russell L. Sandt presided over the first meeting held in February, and George Learn was acting secretary at that time.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

This writer is among many who have picked the Boston Red Sox to win the pennant for the past three years, only to lose in a special playoff, on the final day of the season and in a close battle in that order. I was among many who said they would never pick the Bosox to win again—but that was last year. Although I am letting myself wide open for a good going over from the local fans, I can't help but pick the Crimson Hose again, although the Beantowners have developed into the best second place club in history during recent campaigns.

The Red Sox were considered tops in the game at the beginning of last season, but since that time have added Ray Scarborough and Bill Wight to their pitching staff, to plug a hole that was troublesome at this same time a year ago. Although obtaining Scarborough and Wight was a major factor in picking Boston to win this year, the fact that Lou Boudreau is a member of the Fenway Park crew gives added hope for an American League pennant. The former Cleveland manager seems destined to handle the shortstop role this year.

Mike Guerra, one of the best defensive catchers in the league, was obtained from the A's, to give the club a capable receiving corps. The fact that Big Walt Dropo wasn't injured nearly as seriously as first thought and that the Bosox will have all of that old power of last season makes the Fenway tenants the top club in the circuit, at least from this writer's point of view. Ellis Kinder's relief pitching should also play a major role in the pennant fight.

As usual the Yankees will be right up there, as that Yankee spirit and habit of coming up with the right player at the right time will undoubtedly be right in the thick of the fight once again and it doesn't seem possible that the Bronx Bombers will finish any worse than second. However, the fact that Joe Page still isn't in winning form and that Allie Reynolds won't be ready for action on opening day will fail to help the New York cause. However, otherwise the club is as strong as last year and if the three great rookies continue to show the same brand of ball during the regular season as they have shown for the past month, the Junior loop race should be a honey.

Cleveland, apparently improved over a year ago, especially by the rookies making their bid for a spot in the big time, seems strong enough to finish third, due to strong catching, a solid infield and a better than fair outfield. The pitching, too, will be better than a year ago and with good hurling the Tribe can fight its way into the middle of the flag race. I doubt if the switch in managers will turn the trick, but the influx of young players has improved the Cleveland cause plenty.

Surprisingly enough, the Detroit Tigers don't appear as strong as last season at this same time and can be picked as no better than fourth place by this writer, with opening day around the corner. The Tigers seem fairly well set in every department except the pitching corps, where the club was strongest last year. However, this year the pitchers don't seem to be hitting as a year ago, with such stalwarts as Ted Gray and Virgil "Fire" Trucks remaining as question marks, following arm difficulties.

The improved Chicago Cubs should vault into the number five spot, and close to the first division, under the leadership of Paul Richards, recently appointed manager. The Pale Hose are improved throughout, especially in the outfield where Al Zarilla, purchased from the Red Sox, will help the club tremendously, both at the plate and defensively. The pitching may not be as strong as last season, due to trades, but it seems adequate enough to carry the club to the top of the second division.

There doesn't appear to be much to choose between the Washington Senators, Philadelphia A's and St. Louis, but this scribe expects to see them finish sixth, seventh and eighth respectively. Better pitching and a good infield should keep the Senators above the A's and Browns, while Manager Jimmy Dykes is expected to instill the usual peaceful A's with enough spirit to keep them in seventh place above the lowly Browns. However, the Philadelphia crew will also have to win a few games on merit, if it is to escape the cellar.

The Browns, without Dr. Tracy seem to be even better than last year, although Ned Garver, ace hurler, has been spotty at times during the spring grind. However, if everything works smoothly, the Browns appear to have enough power to fight the Senators for the sixth spot, but it's much safer to pick Zack Taylor's crew for the cellar position.

Pocono A.C. Granted Use Of Giffels Field

Unanimous Vote Approves Team Request

Pocono A. C., Monroe county's entry in the Blue Mountain Baseball league, will use Gordon Giffels field as its home base this season, it was announced last night, following a meeting of the Stroudsburg school board, at Stroudsburg High school.

Permission to use the W. Main St. field was given the local ball club by unanimous permission of the board members present. Those voting in favor of the movement were Joseph Wallace, Warren "Mag" Loney, Dr. Claus Jordon, Dr. Marshall R. Metzgar, Norman Bender and Mrs. Katherine Koehler.

Last night's approval by the board is subject to further approval by Attorney Arlington W. Williams, solicitor.

Meeting

An earlier meeting in Williams' office had set the groundwork for obtaining permission to use the field formerly used by the Stroudsburg Poconos, of the North Atlantic League. The earlier meeting featured Loney, Wallace and Henry G. Tucker acting for the school board and Fred Hershey, General Manager of Pocono A. C., representing the baseball interests.

The field was given to the local ball club to use, but under certain stipulations, as outlined in the approved ammendment by Wallace.

Pocono A. C. will be charged $10 per game, without the dressing rooms, but will be allowed to use the concession stand. However, there will be no advertising allowed on the fence.

The Blue Mountain League team expects to play at least 14 home games this season, with rental to be paid in advance. The club must also have liability insurance. Pocono A. C. will not be allowed to interfere with high school activities and must give up use of the field by Labor Day.

Waymart Ace Honored In Court Poll

Harrisburg (AP) — Two members of state championship teams copped top honors on the 1951 Little All-Pennsylvania scholastic basketball team released yesterday by the Associated Press.

Kutztown's flashy playmaker Ronnie Weidenhammer received the most votes in the second annual poll of sports editors and radio sportscasters all over the state to honor the outstanding players on class "B" and "C" teams. Weidenhammer was the only repeater from last year's initial selections.

Receiving the most votes from the west was Charles Craig, six-foot- five center for Fredonia's class "C" state champions—winners of the first state title game ever held in that division.

Completing the starting five are Jack Vaile of once-beaten Cresson; Ron Mayer of class "B" western titlist Avalon, and Bob Ferry, of Freeland St. Ann's.

The Little All-State team was originated last year by the Associated Press to honor players from class "B" and "C" schools—both public and parochial. The All-Pennsylvania team, released last week, includes only players from class "A" schools.

Big Gun

Weidenhammer was credited by coach John Silan as the main reason Kutztown won its second class "B" state title in a row.

"Weidenhammer was our key player, who not only scored over 400 points but passed off time and time again to set up scoring plays," Silan said. "It was Weidenhammer who came through in the clutch for us this season."

Six-foot-one Ronnie, who wears glasses as he plays, scored 441 points in 29 games in his senior year. A clever dribbler, he ran through zone and man-to-man defenses although he was double-guarded in many games.

Craig, who made the second team last year, even topped Weidenhammer's scoring mark as the 140-pound stringbean tallied 541 points. In four years the brilliant rebound artist and one-hand pivot shot expert has collected 1,434 points as a letterman. Last year he scored 539 points as the Fredonia Vocats won the PIAA class "C" western title.

Jack Vaile, a six-foot-two forward, was the principle reason for Cresson winning 22 games in a row this season. Vaile, another dazzler with a one-hand push, tallied 440 points in 23 games. He also wrecked many defenses with his drive-in layups.

Ron Mayer, the only junior on the starting five, led the fighting Avalon Panthers to the western title of class "B". Another six-foot-two lad, he scored 406 points for the season.

Bob Ferry of Freeland St. Ann's is the shortest member of the starting five—he measures only five-foot-ten. But the top scorer in the Mountain league made up for his lack of height by uncanny shooting even while off balance. He scored 735 points in 29 games for an average of 25.3 his high single game was a 42-point performance against Mauch Chunk in Mountain league play.

Second Team
Tom Gustin, Mercer
Ken Miller, East Greenville
Charley Decker, Waymart
Dick Drennan, Springdale
Bill Wilson, Mt. Joy

Third Team
Stan Student, McAdoo
Dick Wetzel, Ashland
Pete Cochran, Prospect Park
Nobie Ackerman, Irwin
Dick Anderson, Lawrence Park

Bangor To Play At Pen Argyl

Pen Argyl — Bangor and Pen Argyl High schools clash here in an exhibition baseball game this afternoon, as both clubs take part in their first action of the present campaign. The contest is scheduled to be played at Weona Park, at 4 p. m.

Bangor, after slightly more than two weeks of drill, has picked a tough customer with which to open the present diamond campaign. Pen Argyl captured the Lehigh - Northampton League crowd and District 11 title last year.

Lineups

Coach Dave Thomas was uncertain about his starting lineup today, but announced a tentative lineup which featured Vince DeFranco, first base; Leonard Castellucci, center field; Anthony Falcone, shortstop; Harry Callie, catcher; Joe Yannuzzi, right field; Harold Frace, left field; Joe Heard, second base; Dominic "Ziggy" DeFranco, third base, and Glen Raph, pitcher. Dick Walk is scheduled to be the relief hurler.

However, Thomas pointed out the fact that the entire squad would probably see some sort of action in today's cotnest.

Glen Brook Opening May Be Postponed

Clifford Heller, chairman of the greens committee at Glen Brook Country club, announced late last night that the official 1951 opening of the club is still set for tomorrow, although yesterday's heavy rains may force postponement of the opening day schedule.

However, Heller pointed out that the opening day hadn't been postponed and won't be done until it becomes obvious that weather conditions will be unfavorable for golf on Saturday.

Dinner

Even though the course doesn't open tomorrow, there will be a buffet dinner from 6 to 8 p. m. and dancing beginning at 9.

Mike Rubish, Glen Brook professional this season, has arrived for duty and will have the golf shop in good condition by opening day. Rubish will be in complete charge of the playing end of the game and will give all the lessons during the coming summer months.

Louis' Contract Troubles Brought To Light In Court

New York (AP)—Joe Louis contracted to pay his manager 50 per cent of his gross earnings from 1935 to 1945 it was learned yesterday from papers filed in Supreme Court.

Details of the contract were disclosed in an answer filed by Sol Straus, Louis' attorney, to a suit by John Roxborough who asked an accounting of Louis' earnings in the Ezzard Charles fight last September.

According to Strauss' answer, Roxborough induced Louis to make a written agreement with Julian Black of Chicago whereby Black was engaged as his manager for ten years from May 14, 1935. Louis agreed to pay Black 50 per cent of his gross receipts from boxing contests, exhibitions, movies and radio, Strauss said in his reply.

Expenses

Louis was to pay his own training expenses, railroad fares and other expenses out of the remaining 50 per cent, the papers said.

Strauss' answer claimed the contract was "unconscionable and upon information and belief was brought about by the plaintiff (Roxborough) for his personal gain and profit." The answer further claimed the plaintiff "does not come into the court with clean hands."

The connection between Roxborough and the ten-year contract between Louis and Black was not clarified. Roxborough claims to have a contract with Louis calling for 25 per cent of his gross earnings for an indefinite period.

Roxborough's suit was filed last September. The last amended answer was filed February 12, 1951. There is no indication when the court will take any action on the suit.

According to New York law it is illegal for a fighter to pay a manager more than 33 and one-third per cent of his ring earnings after expenses have been deducted.

Pro Football Fatal To Georgetown

Cambridge, Mass. (AP) — Rising costs and television weren't the only causes of Georgetown University dropping football; the greatest blame should be placed on the professionals, Coach Bob Margarita said yesterday.

Margarita, who arrived here yesterday to assume his post as assistant at Harvard University, emphasized this with what he described as concrete examples.

Crowd

"We had about 8,000 for our game with Maryland. That's all," Margarita said. He likened the Georgetown-Maryland rivalry to that existing hereabouts between Boston College and Holy Cross College.

The Maryland team was ranked eighth nationally at the time and had just beaten Michigan State 35-7, he said.

"Another time," he added, "we had a game with Tulsa, which had an 8-1 record and drew only 4,800."

"The Washington Redskins have made Washington a pro football town," he continued.

Margarita should know something about pro and college football.

Kentucky Coach Blames School Authorities For Cage Trouble

Dayton, O., (AP)—Adolph Rupp, coach of Kentucky's NCAA basketball champions, last night placed the blame for the recent New York College basketball scandals on coaches and authorities at eastern schools.

Addressing the Agonis club, a local sports group, Rupp said:

"When you allow those boys to commercialize themselves as they did in the east, the consequences are evident."

Rupp cited the upstate New York "Borsch Circuits," where college stars work as hotel employes and play on hotel cage teams in the summer as one of the main contributing factors in the "fix" scandals.

He also criticized coaches and authorities for permitting eastern college players to "participate with professionals and High school boys for money on Sundays and over weekends."

Statement

"They've winked at such methods for the last 15 years and permitted them to continue. Is it any wonder that a basketball scandal is the result?" he asked.

Rupp gave two possible remedies for the sport's "temporary ills:"

"Take basketball back to the campus as we have down in Kentucky. We've made more money at Kentucky than we ever did in Madison Square Garden.

"Or elect a basketball czar and give him some teeth. The trouble with this plan is that none of the administrators have enough guts to favor such a plan. They just want a man to smooth things over," Rupp said.

Board Reviews Plans For Wrestling

James Burrows, secretary of the Exchange Club, addressed a letter to Earl H. Groner, superintedent of Stroudsburg schools, asking permission to use Gordon Giffels field for wrestling shows this summer.

The letter was brought before the school board, at last night's meeting, and the request was tentatively approved, although no prices were announced.

Details

Further details will have to be worked out on the request before it can be officially granted.

The Exchange Club plans to hold an indoor show in June, and outdoor matches in July and August.

Money raised by the club during these shows will be contributed to the East Stroudsburg Little Baseball League.

Tigers Gain Nod Over Barons

Birmingham, Ala., (AP) — Three Detroit pitchers were hit hard, but the Tigers eked out an 11-8 exhibition triumph yesterday over the Birmingham Barons of the Southern Association.

Teddy Gray, Freddie Hutchinson and Saul Rogovin went to the mound for Detroit and both Gray and Hutch were given rough treatment by the minor leaguers.

Hit Hard

Gray was tagged for eight hits and five walks in the five innings he worked. Hutchinson walked two and gave five hits. The Barons scored five runs off Gray and three off Hutchinson.

While Detroit collected 11 hits, only four came off ol' Bobo Newsom who started for the Barons. The others came off three rookies.

Portland To Practice

Portland—LeRoy "Cheesy" Egbert, manager of the Portland entry in the Blue Mountain baseball league, announced last night that the club would hold its initial practice on Sunday, at the ball field, at 2 p. m.

All former players and interested candidates are urged to attend the drill.

Another Figure Enters Basketball Scandal

New York, (AP)—Richard Feurtado, a former basketball player for Long Island University, was arrested on bribery charges yesterday—the eighteenth collegian involved in the growing bet-bribe scandal.

He is 24 and lives in Santa Cruz, Cal.

Feurtado was accused of taking part in fixing three Long Island University games in the 1949-50 season and one in the season before that.

The basketball scandal that broke in February has involved stars or former players from four schools—LIU, Manhattan, City College of New York and New York University.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said Fuertoda voluntarily came here from California, arriving only yesterday.

Gas Station

Hogan said the former basketball player got $4,000 for his part in the alleged game fixes.

Feurtado drew $500, the district attorney charged, for a fix of the LIU-Duquesne game January 1, 1949. Duquesne won 64-55.

Previously, Hogan has said fixers paid tens of thousands of dollars to the players involved to rig the scores of 20 Madison Square Garden games.

Five men have been arrested and accused of putting up the money to swing the fixes. Chief among them, according to Hogan, is Salvatore Sollazzo, a New York City jewelry manufacturer. He is awaiting trial on 13 counts of bribery.

Hogan said the go-between in the alleged fix of the LIU-Duquesne game was Eddie Gard, a former LIU player arrested in mid-February.

Gard allegedly was contact man for Sollazzo in efforts to bribe various players.

Basilio Gains Nod

Amateurs Turn Cold Shoulder On Tennis Plan

By Will Grimsley

New York (AP)—A new move to establish an open tennis championship, similar to that in golf, drew a cold shoulder yesterday from the top brass of the amateurs but enthusiastic support from the pros.

"There is no likelihood of such a thing in the future," said Russell B. Kingman, president of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association, ruling body of the amateurs.

"It would be a great boon to the game," commented Bobby Riggs, promoter of the professional net tours.

Edward Herr, of Miami, Fla., an official of the Florida Tennis Association, has written Kingman suggesting a "limited controlled open," involving the 16 top professionals and 16 top amateurs.

Split Gate

Herr's idea is to split the gate and television receipts down the middle, giving half to the pros and the other half, less expenses, to the 14 sections composing the USLTA.

Breaks Enable Bosox To Take Measure Of Springfield, 5-2

Springfield, Mass., (AP)—The Boston Red Sox scored three times without a hit in the seventh inning yesterday as they downed the Springfield Cubs of the International league 5-2.

An overflow audience of 10,376 saw the American leaguers end their barnstorming northward tour. Today the Sox will play the Boston Braves in the first game of a three set intra-city series.

Winning Margin

An error, four consecutive bases on balls and a flyout accounted for the American leaguers' winning margin in the seventh.

Ted Williams and Walt Dropo each rapped a pair of hits.

The Cubs scored both their runs against Bill Evans in the seventh. Both tallied on Jack Wallaesa's double, his third hit of the day.

Commercial 'C' Rolls

Members of the Commercial "C" League will see action tonight on the Harmon alleys, at 9:15. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two—Grover's Atlantic vs Regina Hotel.

Alleys three and four—Nauman's Sporting Goods vs Worthington Mower.

Alleys five and six — Lanterman's Funeral Home vs Kreamee Ice Cream.

Sign Pro Contracts

Cleveland, (AP) — The champion Cleveland Browns announced yesterday they had signed halfback Max Clark and tackle Milton "Mysto" Dietz to professional football contracts.

Clark played three years of varsity ball for the University of Houston.

Dietz was captain of last year's Muhlenberg College team.

Baker To Meet Brothers At St. Nicholas

By Jack Hand

New York (AP)—Bob Baker, touted as a potential heavyweight champ, makes his New York bow tonight against Elkins Brothers at St. Nicholas Arena.

Unbeaten in 19 pro fights, the Pittsburgh Negro will be shooting for national recognition in his first appearance before network television cameras. The 10 p.m. (EST) ten-rounder will be broadcast by ABC and televised by NBC.

Baker, at 24, is being groomed carefully. He has knocked out 14 of 19 opponents on his way up the ladder. He still is a year away from fighters like Ezzard Charles, the champ, and Jersey Joe Walcott. But he wants to fight any of the others.

Rugged Test

Brothers figures to be a rugged test for Baker. A swarming busy fighter who seldom takes a backward step, Brothers is at his best against big men. He is only 5-foot 9½ to Baker's 6-foot 1½ inches.

They are comparing Baker with the early Joe Louis on the speed of his fists and his ability to combine sock and boxing ability. Sidelined by a hand injury for several months, Baker returned to action earlier this month to stop Levi Bryant at Pittsburgh.

White Sox Divide Bargain Bill With Memphis Farm Club

Memphis, Tenn., (AP)—The Chicago White Sox, major league champions of the spring exhibitions, yesterday wound up their spring grind by splitting a double header with their farm club, the Memphis Chicks, managed by Luke Appling.

Loan Pitchers

The Sox loaned Pitchers Billy Pierce and Harry Dorish to the Chicks in the first game and suffered a 2-0 pasting. There was no leasing of pitchers in the second game and the Sox triumphed, 7-1, in seven innings before only 387 customers. The attendance was held down by chilly weather.

The White Sox meet the Chicago Cubs in Chicago today in the first of a three game series.

Baseball Meeting

Scotrun — Tannersville's entry in the Pocono Mountain Baseball League will hold an important business meeting here tonight, at Johnson's Diner. The gathering will take place at 8.

Last Night's Hockey

American League Playoff

Pittsburgh 9, Cleveland 2, (Pitt. leads 2-1 in best of 7 series)

Giants Crush Indians

Winston-Salem, N. C., (AP) —The New York Giants slammed five home runs to crush the Cleveland Indians, 13-6, yesterday.

Olean Pilot Named

Olean, N. Y., (AP) — Orval Cott, a Pony League veteran, was signed to manage the Olean Oilers in the class "D" circuit.

Legion Posts Endorse UMT Legislation

Pocono Pines — The Monroe County Committee of American Legion, representing all regional posts of the veterans' organization this week adopted a resolution here favoring universal military training.

Representatives of various posts met in Post 413 here with James Gould of Post 927, new county commander, conducting the meeting.

The group also went on record in favor of Senate Bill 27 in Pennsylvania legislature which would require all State employes to sign a loyalty pledge.

Arrangements were made to attend an eastern section meeting of the American Legion in Lehighton this Sunday.

The group completed plans to send a group of entertainers to the Wilkes-Barre Veterans Administration hospital to entertain veterans who are patients there.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Edward Sloat Electrocuted In New Jersey

East Borough Man Touches Power Line

J. Edward Sloat

J Edward Sloat, 44-year-old East Stroudsburg journeyman lineman employed by the New Jersey Power and Light Co., was electrocuted yesterday as he worked atop a utility pole near Basking Ridge, Somerset county, N. J.

Other members of the work crew said the East Stroudsburg man apparently came into contact with a 4,600-volt wire. His overalls burst into flame and he slumped across a guy wire, according to one fellow workman who was on the scene.

The victim's right side and leg were severely burned at the point where the live wire brushed against his work trousers.

After attempts to revive him failed, the victim was pronounced dead by the Somerset county physician, and the body was removed to the Galloway funeral home at Basking Ridge.

Mr. Sloat, a native of Halstead, Pa., had lived in East Stroudsburg the greater part of his life. He was graduated from East Stroudsburg High school where he was prominent in athletics.

During the Second World War he served with the Seabees on Guam and at other points with the U. S. Navy. Interested in politics, he once ran for tax collector in East Stroudsburg.

He was a member of St. Matthew's R. C. church, East Stroudsburg, Thomas P. Lambert post 2540, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Eagles Aerie 1106, Stroudsburg.

Mr. Sloat entered the employ of the New Jersey Power and Light Co. five years ago, and had been working out of Bernardsville, N. J., and in the Basking Ridge area for the past year.

The son of the late Leon Sloat and Mrs. James Shafer, of East Stroudsburg, he is survived by his mother and also his wife, Mrs. Vesta (Lesoine) Sloat, a nurse at Monroe County General hospital.

Funeral services will be held Monday with a requiem mass at 9:30 a. m. St. Matthew's church. Rev. Harold G. Durkin, church pastor, will be the celebrant.

Interment will be made in the Laurelwood cemetery. Friends may pay respects at the Lanterman funeral home, 27 Washington St., East Stroudsburg, from 7 to 9 p. m. Sunday.

House Favors Lowering Of Draft Age

Washington, (AP) — The House overwhelmingly demonstrated yesterday its support for lowering the draft age and making a survey preparatory to starting universal military training.

By a vote of 232 to 140, it defeated a substitute bill that would have extended the draft law but kept the present minimum induction age at 19 years. The defeated bill made no provision for UMT at any time.

The House put off until today a final vote on the administration-backed measure to drop the draft age to 18½, lengthen the period of service to 26 months and create a commission to report to Congress later on UMT. The draft law would be extended until July 1, 1954.

Indications were the administration bill would be passed and sent to a Senate-House conference.

The Senate has passed a bill lowering the draft age to 18, extending the service period to 24 months, putting a top strength of 4,000,000 on military personnel and authorizing the President to induct youths for UMT after the need for a service draft ends.

Mrs. Young Quits, Takes Mink Coat

Presidential Press Secretary Joseph H. Short disclosed under questioning at a news conference yesterday that Monday was the last day Mrs. Young worked. He said she explained she wanted to devote more time to her home duties.

The coat, a $9,540 natural pastel royal mink, came into nationwide prominence in a Senate banking subcommittee inquiry into the multi-billion dollar lending activities of the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) and others charged that influence and pressure had been brought upon the RFC directors by a group with White House connections.

One person named was E. Merl Young, whose wife Lauretta had the elegant fur coat.

The Senators received testimony that Mrs. Young picked out the coat last September at a New York furrier's place. The furrier testified the coat was first charged to her husband and later transferred to the account of Joseph H. Rosenbaum, a Washington attorney who was actively representing clients seeking RFC loans.

Young and Rosenbaum testified the lawyer paid for the coat as a personal loan to Young.

Materials To Be Controlled

Washington, (AP)—The government intends to put specific ceilings on meat prices shortly, and after July 1 it will resume its World War Two practice of allotting scarce materials to defense industries.

The government will re-introduce a "controlled materials plan" July 1. It will guarantee the delivery of three basic munitions metals, steel, copper and aluminum, to defense factories.

What's left after the high priority industries are served will go into civilian goods.

Price control authorities said dollars and cents ceilings on meat are due within the next week. This will replace the general freeze to which meat prices are now subject.

Officials said the principal effect may be to bar further rises in price to consumers. No drop in retail prices is expected.

Governor Signs Fish, Game Laws

Harrisburg (AP)—The legal size of pickerel that may be taken from inland waters in Pennsylvania is increased from 12 to 15 inches under a new law signed last by Gov. John S. Fine.

The Governor also signed a new law permitting persons to transport parts of the carcasses of big game without requiring each piece to be tagged with the name of the owner.

Such meat, however, must be available for inspection by any enforcement officer who may require the name and address of the person who shot the game.

Both laws become effective September 1.

Fine Attacks Alternate To Tax Proposal

Harrisburg (AP) — Gov. John S. Fine applied a "makeshift" label yesterday to a non-administration tax program suggested as an alternate to the personal income levy.

Digging into a maze of figures shown in his projected $1,200,000,000 budget for the next two years, the Governor said:

"The simple fact may be repeated—we have been obligated to pay $112,000,00 for which no revenue has been provided. This money and the balance of the $163,000,000 needed for the next biennium can come only from taxes."

So far, Fine's plan for a one-half of one per cent income tax to raise $119,000,000 in the next two years has had rough going in the House. The once-defeated measure was revived Wednesday but the House GOP leadership lacked the necessary 105 votes to put it over decisively.

Fine's special statement attacked a four-part tax program set up by an accounting firm at the direction of Sen. John M. Walker, Republican floor leader.

The proposals called for:

Re-enactment of the cent a bottle soft drink tax, expected to bring in $30,000,000 in two years.

Increase the corporate net income tax from four to five per cent to raise $44,000,000.

Cutting the civil defense appropriation from $20,000,000 to $2,000,000.

Revising anticipated tax revenues at $60,000,000 higher than the figure forecast by the Governor's budget secretary, Dr. Edward B. Logan.

The Governor discussed each phase of the alternative program and agreed only with the corporate net income tax boost. That is also a part of his tax plan.

On soft drink taxes, he said both the Republican and Democratic party platforms last year "spelled out the promise" that the levy should be allowed to die May 31.

At least $20,000,000 is needed for civil defense, he said, so that Pennsylvania can meet emergencies that may arise from enemy attack.

"We should not prune a twig which may cost the life of a tree," said Fine of the civil defense allocation.

On the idea of increasing budget estimates of tax revenues for the next two years, the executive said:

"There is not a shred of evidence on which to base such an estimate."

Federal Marshal Charged With Accepting Bribe

Washington (AP)—The Justice department announced last night that Edwin J. Carrigan, United States Marshal for the Northern district of California has been arrested on bribery charges.

Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGarth said the charges grew out of solicitation and acceptance of a bribe to prevent the removal of a Federal prisoner, Phil Davis, from a prison farm to a Federal penintentiary.

The attorney general also authorized the prosecution of all individuals having any connection with the alleged act of bribery.

AFTER HOUSE AND SENATE Republicans had discussed possible impeachment action against President Truman, for his action of relieving Gen. Douglas MacArthur of all commands, House Minority Leader Joseph Martin Jr. (R-Mass.), at left, and Senate Leader Kenneth S. Wherry (R-Neb.) confer in Washington. Wherry said impeachment demands would be made in House and Senate. Meanwhile Rep. Martin received word from Gen. MacArthur that he would like to address a joint session of Congress and might be home in a few weeks.

MacArthur Family To Leave Monday For Return Trip To United States After 14 Years

Tokyo, Friday, (AP)—General MacArthur said his family will leave here early Monday by plane for Hawaii and San Francisco on a trip home postponed 14 years by war and turbulent peace.

It would be their first journey together since they escaped from Corregidor in the Philippines nine years ago.

The MacArthurs will fly in his famous Constellation "Scap." The exact takeoff time is subject to last minute decision, an aide said, but it now is scheduled for early Monday morning, Japan time.

The "Scap" will fly to Hawaii for an overnight stop and then on to San Francisco.

Where the MacArthurs will go after that was still undisclosed and may not yet be decided, the general's intimates said.

Plans for the trip already have been revised and no definite schedule is yet available.

"It would be a self-contained party able to go anywhere at a moment's notice," one aide said.

Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, the general's closest adviser, and Col. S L. Huff, his senior aide, will accompany the MacArthurs. Both have been intimately associated with MacArthur since prewar days in Manila.

This will be the first flight in the new Constellation for Mrs. MacArthur and 13-year-old Arthur MacArthur, who has never seen the United States. He was born in Manila.

MacArthur conferred last night with his successor, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway. Then Ridgway, former Eighth Army commander, flew back to Korea to direct the United Nations advance. He planned to return to Tokyo in a few days.

"I had a delightful talk with General MacArthur, thanks to his unfailing generosity and courtesy," Ridgway told correspondents in Korea early today.

There still was no comment publicly by MacArthur about his abrupt dismissal by President Truman Wednesday and his future plans.

Representative Martin, House Republican leader, said in Washington:

"There is a possibility that General MacArthur will fly back next week and will be available to address Congress sooner than the three weeks mentioned earlier."

Rand Reports MacArthur To Join Concern

Fort Myers, Fla., (AP)—James H. Rand, president of Remington-Rand, Inc., confirmed last night that Gen. Douglas MacArthur will become an official of the business equipment and typewriter concern.

Rand, aboard his 130-foot yacht, Galaxy, tied up at the Fort Myers yacht basin, said MarArthur would join the firm within 90 days and take an active part in its affairs.

"I understand the general would prefer to make his home in Connecticut and that he has for a long time looked forward to giving his son an opportunity to attend an American school, which heretofore has been impossible." he said.

Rand would not comment on a report published in the Chicago Daily News that MacArthur would receive $100,000 a year.

Fares Increased

New York, (AP) — The State Public Service commission yesterday authorized the Long Island railroad to raise commutation fares 20 per cent, effective April 14.

Riots Flare In Iran Oil Field

Tehran, Iran (AP)—Premier Hussein Ala said last night that riots of strickers in the Abandan oil field area broke out yesterday and that one Iranian woman was killed and three Britons were either killed or injured.

Troops and tanks have been sent there, the premier said, and the situation is believed to be under control.

Poor communications between the capital and the oil center prevented getting exact details of the riots at Abandan and the nearby port, Bandur Mashur.

U. S. Escapes Loss In Great Air Battles

Tokyo, Friday (AP) — Twenty-nine Russian-type planes were reported shot down or damaged over northwest Korea yesterday in history's greatest jet and bomber air battles.

The fighting between enemy and American jets and B-29 bombers developed several days after President Truman warned of a step-up in Red air power to be turned loose from Manchuria bases.

It also came at a time when the Chinese Reds made a puzzling withdrawal in west-central Korea but kept up the resistance elsewhere.

In the ground fighting Allied troops with flame throwers and rockets killed or wounded nearly 2,500 Reds yesterday on their advance deeper into Red North Korea.

On the east-central front powerful Allied searchlights lit up the battlefield south of Hwachon reservoir through last night to pin down the Communists.

Enemy jets pressed their attack on a B-29 bridge-bombing mission with unprecedented fury and determination but there were no reports of American plane losses.

The American jets and B-29s were credited by the Far East Air Force today with destroying eight enemy planes, probably destroying six and crippling 15 in the Thursday fighting.

The Air Force said a recheck thus far showed the B-29 gunners knocked down four enemy jets, probably got four others and damaged one. U. S. jets were credited with four destroyed, two probables and 14 damaged.

Neither the B-29s nor the American jets had ever before made such a score for one day's fighting in the jet-speed era.

Air Force figures showed at least 65 MIGs were engaged in two separate battles with about 100 U. S. jets and 32 big bombers from Japan and Okinawa bases.

The B-29s hit the massive steel and concrete bridge over the Yalu river at Sinuiju on a main route of Red China's supply line to the Korean battlefronts.

The Air Force said the bombers made "the most concentrated interdiction attack of the war."

The bombing was pressed through on schedule in the thick of swirling dogfights and Red anti-aircraft fire.

A flight of 50 or more MIGs swooped on the bombers at the outset. The enemy planes were jumped in turn by masses of F-84 thunderjets and F-86 Sabre jets flying cover for the B-29s.

The bombers themselves joined the fast tactical air battle with their .50-calibre guns shooting at the swishing targets while bombardiers let go the heaviest tonnage of explosives dropped on a bridge during the Korean war.

Ohioan Calls For Aggressive War Against Chinese

Washington (AP)— Republican leaders pressed slam-bang onslaught on the Truman administration last night as General Douglas MacArthur, deposed Far East commander, prepared to fly to the United States Monday.

While Truman supporters continued to insist that the firing of MacArthur was the only thing to do, Republicans accused the administration of leaning toward "appeasment" of Communism and of putting the U. S. in grave danger of a new world war.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) declared in a New York speech that as things now stand world war three cannot be prevented "without an aggressive war against Communist China."

This would mean, he said, assistance to Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist forces to land on the Chinese mainland, plus the bombing of military targets in Manchuria and China. Neither of these steps, he said, would mean any "general war in China."

MacArthur Jokes With Magnuson About Dismissal

Washington (AP) — Senator Magnuson (D-Wash) told this one by radio from Tokyo last night:

He dropped in at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters earlier in the day to get some anti-typhoid injections from medical officers, and encountered MacArthur.

Said Magnuson: "I just dropped in to get a couple of shots."

Said MacArthur, laughing: "I just got one."

Sen. McCarthy Blames Power 'Of Bourbon'

Washington (AP)— Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) said yesterday President Truman's firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur "not only was a victory for Communism but shows the midnight power of bourbon and benedictine."

McCarthy said in his opinion Mr. Truman "didn't know what he was doing" when he ousted the five-star general"; that those "around the President evidently had time to get him cheerful" before he acted.

A reporter asked McCarthy if he was contending Mr. Truman acted under the influence of liquor.

"No, I do not mean that," McCarthy said. "I simply mean that he always seems to wait until late at night to issue orders and write letters. The country would be better off if he didn't do those things at night."

McCarthy called the President "just an unimportant and unintelligent little fellow who is pulled on the string of those around him." He said he was talking about "the old Acheson-Hiss crowd."

He told a reporter the President is "not the really vicious part of the circle around him." McCarthy added:

"He is just a man of a little mind who is under the hypnotic influence of those around him."

He said General MacArthur spoke up on foreign policy because of a "justified fear" the United States would end the Korean war by appeasement.

"If the original sending of American troops to Korea was to prevent World War Three, as the President said Wednesday night, then that purpose has been long completely lost from sight," Taft said.

"It cannot now be accomplished without an aggressive war against Communist China and punishment of the aggressor, as the North Koreans were punished."

President Truman declared Wednesday night that he fired MacArthur because he feared the general's policies would spread the war beyond Korea into a general conflagration. MacArthur wanted stronger measures against the Red Chinese, while the President's declared policy is to limit operations to Korea, teach the foe a lesson there and hope he will make peace.

But Senator Wherry, of Nebraska, Republican floor leader, charged last night that it is the Truman administration, not MacArthur, which is risking world war. He said in a radio speech that the "zigzag, inept foreign policy" of the President and Secretary of State Acheson has brought the nation to the brink of a land war with Russia which would mean "wanton destruction" of untold American lives.

Wherry said the "bayonet generals who dominate the Pentagon" are frittering away the nation's manpower resources by concentrating on preparations for a land war in Europe against overwhelming Russian hordes. Air power should have first priority, Wherry said.

Paying tribute to MacArthur, Wherry said the "pygmies" cannot bring down "this giant, this tower of strength and deserving idol of the American people."

Senator Welker (R-Idaho) told the Senate Mr. Truman should step out of the White House and give Vice President Barkley a chance "to restore unity and confidence" in the country.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif) declared Acheson "should resign or be removed by the President" because the American people "no longer have confidence in him."

Senator Robertson (D-Va) came to the President's defense saying MacArthur deliberately forced the issue "of who should be in charge of our foreign policy in the Far East." He said MacArthur knew the meaning of insubordination and had forced Mr. Truman to act.

Senator Morse (R-Ore) declared the President had a constitutional right to remove MacArthur.

"God help the American people," he said, "if the day ever comes when we do not retain civilian control over the military."

Morse rebuked his colleagues who have talked of impeaching Mr. Truman. He said the only grounds for impeachment are treason, bribery or other high crimes or misdemeanors.

Martin To Reply To Mr. Truman

Washington (AP)—Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., of Massachusetts, House Republican leader, will broadcast his views on the ousting of General MacArthur over NBC and CBS from 10:30 to 11 tonight.

His speech will be a reply to President Truman's address Wednesday night.

Names Defense Aide

Washington (AP)—President Truman yesterday appointed Mayor Dan Kramer Edwards, of Durham, N. C., to be assistant secretary of defense. He will succeed Marx Leva who has resigned.

Mac Ouster Splits Citizenry

The big question: "Do you think President Truman acted wisely when he dismissed General MacArthur and what was your reaction?

The big answer: "Yes! . . . No! . . . I'm not sure yet . . . I was shocked when I read the news!"

This was a cross-section of local opinion yesterday from both adults and students. Their answers ran from luke warm to red hot.

They had a variety of reasons. For the most part, however, they all expressed a great respect for the 71-year-old general and the work he has done in the Pacific.

Many admitted at first they were yelling for the President's scalp. As one man exclaimed: "All my wife kept telling me all day Wednesday was 'They oughta impeach him and make Mac president.' Now, she's simmered down."

And this is the way many of the persons questioned yesterday expressed themselves. "There's a lot more we have to learn about it," one man admitted.

Stroudsburg's Chief Burgess Hal H. Harris, in recalling the incident, declared: "I think it was perfect. There was nothing left for Truman to do but let him out.

"In every walk of life a man must take orders from his superiors. MacArthur failed, and Truman was left in an embarrassing position. It was the only avenue out Truman had . . . and it was perfectly right and proper."

John R. Wilson, general secretary of the YMCA, said:

"I like MacArthur and I think he has a right to his opinions, but I also think he overstepped his bounds. I think it would have been better for him to resign and give his opinions. The incident may bring a re-vamping of the whole policy in Korea."

Franklin E. Weller, commander of the Thomas P. Lambert Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, looked at the incident from another angle:

"It stands to reason a man who has been over there 14 years would know more about the problems in that theater. If you're to guide an army as supreme commander, you have to do it in the field, not from a desk and you cannot delay because of executive pressures."

Two ladies, talking over the news in a soda shop, simply declared: "We just don't think it's right." They declined to give their names.

Said William P. Deering, president of Stroudsburg Lions club: "MacArthur sought world war three; Truman seeks to prevent it altogether. This officer's attitude gave aid and comfort to our Communist foes. The President made one error. He waited too long . . . He should have fired MacArthur six months ago."

A man serving with the U. S. armed forces, who requested his name be withheld, stated:

"I respect Mac as a great military leader. But in this case Truman was right. Mac has policies all his own and they are not the ones adopted by the President and a majority of the members of U. N."

Deputy Sheriff Grover C. Hay was emphatic:

"I think it was the most mean and unjust thing that could have

Mr. Hall explained the functioning of clubs. With James Cadue of Tobyhanna, the deputy governor sang a duet, "My Grandfather's Clock".

Brief addresses were made by Register and Recorder Floyd Butz, Emerson Rahn and Milton Demetriou of the Stroudsburg club, which is sponsoring the new organization. Edward Bigger, president, conducted the meeting.

Mr. Shotwell's Mandate

The Fine administration, with considerable aid from G. Mason Owlett's forces, whipped the boys in line to revive the individual income tax Wednesday for another vote next week.

Using all sorts of pressure plus some plain and fancy "deals" the income tax forces won 115-91 to have the measure "reconsidered."

The unsuspecting public was handed the obvious "pap" that an income tax is better than a sales tax. As we have frequently pointed out, we are against both the income tax and the sales tax.

What we are for is a complete review of the Fine budget to enforce economies. We want re-estimates of income sources to bring them out of the conservative to the maximum figures. We don't think either a sales tax or an income tax is necessary.

Too many people have been sold the idea that one or the other is essential. Too many people are sold on the idea that economy in government is impossible.

A sales tax, in addition to socking everybody even those who buy only the bare necessities of life, would place the economy of Monroe county in an extremely bad competitive position.

We are so close to New Jersey that we attract thousands of dollars worth of business from that region. A sales tax would effectively kill it.

An income tax—they tell you one-half of one per cent "will not amount to much"—would be on all income of all people except a few receiving public assistance or Social Security.

The real danger of a flat income tax is that once enacted it will open the door to increase after increase, year after year.

Once again the solid Democratic minority group voted together against reconsideration of the income tax measure. Fourteen of 19 Republicans of the House, who last week voted against the income tax because of appeals from thousands of their constituents, changed their posiiton and voted to reconsider the tax.

One of these was Rep. John S. Shotwell (R-Monroe). No one will deny he was placed under pressure, but he still has a vote on the income tax bill next week, or a sales tax measure later.

He has the rare opportunity to prove early in his service to ALL the people of Monroe county that he can be consistent.

As a former wage earner and now as a business operator in his own right, he knows both a sales tax and an income tax are dangerous burdens to be thrust on the people of Monroe county.

In addition, Mr. Shotwell has a clear mandate from the people of Monroe county which he should respect.

His vote could decide the issue of both these obnoxious tax proposals. You have not only the right, but the duty, to bolster his stand for economy in government and against further taxation. Call, see or write him today.

Our System Works

Most Americans know they own the bulk of the world's autos. But they may not be up-to-date on the details. They —the details—are interesting.

The world had a record-breaking total of 68,695,200 autos, buses and trucks in operation at the beginning of 1951, according to a census taken by two McGraw-Hill publications. Of this total number, the American people own 48,057,945, and their varioius governmental units a half-million more.

For one thing, close to 37 per cent of the vehicles abroad are trucks and buses. Many more are taxicabs. And, in most foreign lands, more than half the passenger cars registered are used for business.

It doesn't seem necessary to point out the moral of this statistical tale.

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—"Kon-Tiki," a movie record of 4,300 miles on a wind and tide-driven raft, is amateur photography with a professional wallop.

Five Norwegians and a Swede set themselves adrift from Peru on a balsa-and-bamboo raft. They are investigating the theory of their leader, a zoologist and ethnologist, that ancient South Americans were the raft-borne settlers of the South Sea islands. After 105 perilious days they crash land on a tiny island.

This fascinating movie was assembled from film shot by the adventurers while their expedition was in progress. Background music and sea-sound effects have been unobtrusively added. The film is narrated by Thor Heyerdahl, expedition leader and author of the best-selling book account of the voyage.

The movie is exciting because it goes into details and lets them speak for themselves without Hollywood trimmings.

The raft was built, for example, from a design that was 900 years old in Columbus' time. The musty design was found among relics of the Spanish conquistadores. The logs were lashed together with ropes such as the ancient Peruvians would have used. Not a nail or bolt was employed.

Ocean currents curving northwestward from South America, plus the ceaseless trade winds, carried the raft at an average speed of 42½ miles per day. Flying fish, landing aboard, provided excellent breakfasts. Whales charged at the raft like speeding locomotives, diving underneath at the last instant. A whale shark with a mouth five feet wide was a nerve-racking escort for a time. A voyager wrote his records in octopus ink. Portable radio advised the world of Kon-Tiki's whereabouts. The raft was named for the sun god of ancient Peru. It's a picture for your should -see list.

"Go for Broke," explained in dialogue as pidgin English for "shoot the works," is a good war movie. It's about the heroic exploits of Japanese-American soldiers fighting in Italy and France during World War II. Seven of these actual veterans, none professional actors, play featured roles and do them well. Van Johnson plays a lieutenant who is racially prejudiced at first.

These Days -- By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

The Crime Against MacArthur

The President's dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur may prove to be as great a military victory for Soviet Russia as Stalingrad and as great a diplomatic victory as Yalta.

General Douglas MacArthur did not make the Korean war. Every step he took after V-J day (August 14, 1945) has been designed to prevent just such a war. He sought to build an East Asian league of nations, including Nationalist China, which would be a bulwark against the advancing might of Soviet Russia in that vastly populated area of the world. He realized early that our policy in China was ill-conceived and without reality.

He supported the Wedemeyer reports on China and Korea—reports which would have saved us from our current grief. MacArthur did not believe that Korea could be held by the United States on the terms arranged at Teheran and Yalta, but when on June 25, 1950, he was ordered into war there by President Truman and Dean Acheson, he undertook to save the glory of the American flag with his eyes blindfolded and at least one hand tied behind his back.

Within a few days he discovered that he was not an American commander, but a United Nations commander. He discovered that unlike any other commanding general in the field, his decisions were subject to the approval of a vast congress of nations, large and small, among whom are our enemies, Soviet Russia and Poland, to mention only two.

He also discovered that Great Britain with as much responsibility as we have to maintain treaty obligations and the integrity of the United Nations, was engaged in a weird strategy which included three divergent and contradictory factors:

1. To send token troops to fight in the Korean war;
2. To oppose such second-front tactics as might be useful, as, for instance, support of Nationalist China and the Anti-Communist guerrillas on the mainland;
3. To use all efforts, including their effective propaganda agencies, to limit the Korean war to a stalemated, targetless action with the view that American aid and largesse might not be diverted from Europe to Asia.

And in conjunction with this, MacArthur discovered that India, just freed from the British Raj, emerged as a Soviet spokesman, the reason for this unusual demarche being the Cashmir and other antagonisms against Pakistan, Nehru seeking Russian support in his struggle against Moslems in India. On all sides he saw the United States being sacrificed while American sons were being killed.

War is unpleasant under any circumstances: it becomes a horror when the commanding general is being stabbed in the back and the troops under him are being sacrificed on the altar of political necessities. No general wants his men to die for nothing.

All this, General MacArthur, in his round-about language to Congressman Joe Martin, has made clear to the American people. It is a pity that General MacArthur had to use such means as letters to congressmen and private individuals to break through his muzzling by the Pentagon and the state department. He wanted his own people to know that it is impossible to bring this Korean war to a victorious end. For this, he has ben dismissed on the basis of insubordination.

As a military man, he knows that what the geniuses in Washington want to do is ridiculous, impossible. They want to play an unending game of tag, with nobody getting hurt except the troops there. The plan is the loquacious dream of gentle personalities who have a great capacity for loving the enemy. Their confusion arises from a lack of focus; they are global in their outlook, without anchorage in the United States of America. They do not quite know whether they really prefer the American system of life or any other. Acheson and Marshall accept British policy because they cannot devise a policy of their own.

To a man of MacArthur's training and history, these men must appear like curiosities, more perilous than a fighting enemy, for lacking cohesion of thought, they move simultaneously in different directions which at times make them appear to be miasmic.

The crime against General Douglas MacArthur has been that he has been given responsibility but he has not been permitted to win a war or to tell America why we are failing in a war. No man could have held such a position too long with dignity and honor.

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Washington—The United States should withdraw all U. S. troops from Korea immediately. The death of one additional American boy will be a senseless tragedy and a useless sacrific to the most brazen sell-out of Americal principles in the nation's history.

President Truman's orders firing Gen. Douglas MacArthur, marked the complete success of a plan engineered by Secretary of State Dean Acheson and the British government for the total control of Asia by Communist forces under Moscow direction.

The British, so pleased over the presidential axing of Gen. MacArthur, could not even wait until the general departs from Japan before tipping their hand. In a brief announcement the Socialist government stated that the Chinese Communists, whose troops are killing Americans in Korea at this moment, should be invited to the council tables to help decide the Japanese peace treaty.

Gen. MacArthur has been a giant in the path of Communist infiltration for control of Japan. He long ago cuffed military and diplomatic representatives of the Soviet Union in Japan into submission. He has time and again refused even to discuss Soviet participation in Japanese matters.

Now that the general has fallen, the British have leaped into the breach with their sell-out proposal. This is naturally what Secretary of State Acheson has had in the back of his mind all along. Shortly more than a year ago Acheson was nibbling at American resistance to seating Communist Chinese delegates at the U. N. Only the Korean war stopped the Secretary of State from persuading the docile Mr. Truman to approve the plan.

Today, as it has been all along, American boys are facing death from Communist hordes while their diplomatic representatives stab them in the back by negotiating to turn Asia over to Russia.

There is no other conclusion that can be reached, except that the Acheson foreign policy, which Gen. MacArthur fought and lost his job over, is to invite a Russianized China into the decent society of nations.

To ask American soldiers to continue risking their lives in the face of this official governmental betrayal is worse than asininity. Why should American soldiers fight Communist soldiers when U. S. and British diplomats are rolling out the red carpet for Communist Chinese diplomats?

While totally ignoring pleas from Gen. MacArthur, from the Congress of the United States and from the American people, that Chinese Nationalist troops on Formosa be used in the Korean war, the State department and the British government are negotiating to turn over Formosa to the Communists. Formosa is a massive rock in the path of total Communist control in Asia. Acheson and the British government are convinced that it must be submerged. Instead of using Chiang Kai-Shek's troops to help ease the burden on American fighting men, the plan is to sacrifice them to Communist control and Soviet-type purges and execution stakes.

MacArthur is confident that Communist China can be beaten to her knees. He has asserted that only this can save Asia from being Sovietized. President Truman, Acheson and the British know this also. But instead of ordering MacArthur to fight and win the war, he is relieved of his command. Now, of course, tighter restrictions will be placed on the military operations in Korea to give the diplomats a chance to negotiate the betrayal to a predestined conclusion.

This fact makes the further sacrifice of American lives in Korea senseless. What are Americans fighting for now in Korea? It has already been decided that the Chinese Communists will be invited to take part in all Asian affairs, that Chiang Kai-Shek and his forces are to be obliterated, as he sees it.

It is well that the struggle is at last out in the open . . . The deadlock of the forces behind the scene was strangling the nation . . . Because the truth is that, while MacArthur has just been relieved by the President, the United States Senate has long ago dismissed Secretary Acheson for all practical purposes . . . Acheson is Secretary of State in title only, by whim of the President, and not by will of the people . . . Both the Democratic and Republican Senate leaderships have repudiated him. They have put all foreign nations on notice that the Secretary is without power to reach any agreement without their consent. And that consent is not forthcoming.

Walter Winchell on Broadway

MacArthur
(The Story Behind the Story)

The greatest scandal in American history is now out in the open. The scandal is not the dismissal of General MacArthur; it is the Foreign Policy which made it inevitable . . . General MacArthur and Secretary Acheson are only symbols in a titanic struggle going on behind the scenes. The forces which caused MacArthur's dismissal are not in Washington. They are in London . . . The Administration, faced with the breakup of the Atlantic Pact by Great Britain unless it appeases Red China, took the step of double appeasement (of both Moscow and London) by firing MacArthur.

These are the facts: Secretary Acheson, as recently as last Summer, attempted to honor his secret commitment to Great Britain to recognize Red China and admit her to the United Nations. He is on record as stating we would not veto Red China if she succeeded in getting a majority vote. Great Britain, as Red China's floor-leader, attempted to get that majority . . . As another step, Secretary Acheson initiated a deliberate program to play down the importance of Formosa. Senator Knowland of California produced documentary evidence that Sec'y Acheson had secretly instructed all State Dep't policy-makers to minimize the strategic importance of Formosa. In short, the Chinese Nationalist government, by secret agreement between the U. S. and Britain, was to be thrown to the wolves. American public opinion stopped this also. MacArthur, of course, opposed it throughout.

The President and Secretary Acheson, until public opinion reversed them, took the view that since Asia has no industry—that continent would never be a factor in the next war . . . The Acheson formula called for the virtual abandonment of Asia . . . It was, of course, heavily supported by those who believe Communism can be appeased. The American public did not subscribe to the view. It became impossible for the Administration to force its secret agreement through the Senate . . . After practically declaring Korea could not be defended, the President ordered the troops in when Acheson's appeasement failed again . . . The same action followed in Indo-China. After refusing arms, the President sent them.

The reason Great Britain is desperate is that Red China is even more so . . . The whole of South China is in a virtual state of insurrection. Guerrillas, to the extent of more than a million, are in operation on the Chinese mainland. Until Formosa is liquidated, until Chiang's army is out of existence, Red China will always be on the brink of civil war. The Reds realize this so much that they are prepared to vacate South China, if attacked there . . . Thus, Formosa and Chiang Kai-shek are at the heart of the Far East question, and not Korea . . . MacArthur favors using him. Acheson's commitments to Great Britain forbid it . . . As an example, a shipment of rubber is being loaded at Singapore. Destination: The Red Forces.

MacArthur, contrary to the general impression, is within his rights even as a soldier in defying the President. His oath is to the Constitution and to the men under his command. If he deems the orders of his superiors in conflict with them, he is under a duty to make known his objections. The President, by the same token, has a right to relieve him, but he cannot punish him . . . Under the Constitution General MacArthur cannot be dishonorably dismissed from the United States Army for adhering to his oath to the Constitution

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Brandeis

Ever since I published that letter from the Baytown, Texas woman who criticized me for saying I didn't think we would have a third World War in the near future, I have been flooded with mail on the subject.

The writer from Texas asked "You say you don't think we will have a third world war. Will you please telf me what our boys are doing in Korea?"

Most of the letters commenting on the question comes from mothers who have sons in Korea.

Almost all of them are critical. Almost unanimously the writers feel that the whole business has been messed up inexcusably.

With one exception my correspondents voice their anger at the United Nations for its complete ineffectiveness, its lack of courage and its insincerity.

"One of the most loud-mouthed long-distance-talkers," writes one woman, "is the delegate from Egypt. He preaches morality with crocodile tears in his eyes, while his King makes a sorry spectacle of immorality of himself."

Another sends a clipping of a story telling that the General Assembly will hold its next meeting in Paris at an extra expense of $2,350,000 over what it would have cost to meet in New York.

"I guess they can have a better time in Paris," she comments. "Why not, since the United States will pay almost a million of that 'extra' to amuse those delegates?

"It seems to me that they could have enough fun just sitting here in New York and making suckers out of us."

Another correspondent sends an editorial about the U. N.'s Economic and Social Council and its recent junket to Chile.

"It could have met at Lake Success," says a part of the editorial which she underlines, "but New York's winters can be dreadful, while February and March in Chile are delightful."

According to the article 330 U. N. people were flown the 6000 miles to Chile and "to do it up brown, they took along with them also by air:

"700 portable short-wave radios; 10 mimeograph machines; 75 typewriters—and many other things, including several hundred cases of documents, weighing tons.

"Suites and rooms were taken in eight hotels for the delegates, their advisers, consultants and consultants' advisers, plus secretaries for all. Headquarters were set up in the Carerra, Santiago's swankiest hotel, which boasts a roof-top swimming pool."

"And then what do you think they discovered? They found that Santiago's electric current was the wrong voltage so all the imported apparatus had to be adapted!

"Estimated cost of the whole fandango was $500,000 of which the Chilean government put up $150,000."

What was accomplished: Slave labor was studied, except that in the iron curtain countries. "And where else in the world" ends the editorial, "is there slave labor?"

Just one more item sent to me: It is a press dispatch, coming directly from United Nations headquarters:

"A list of member contributions showed today that Paraguay has kicked in five cents during the past two years. That, experts say, is just enough to keep the South American country from losing its voting privileges—the fate of any member which skips paying anything for two years.

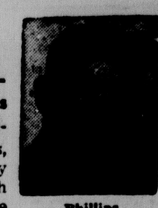

"The nickel was a credit from an earlier overpayment."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Whaddaya Mean, "Man or Beast"

The circus season everywhere is presaged by the run of Ringling Brothers' in Madison Square Garden, New York. With its color, gaiety and daring, how refreshing a circus seems after a winter of scandals, "fixes," crime sensations, spy trials, double-talkers and general shabbiness! It seems like the one thing untouched by 10 per centers, gimme-gimme boys, chiselers, artful dodgers, perjurers, mobsters and characters whose courage runs out in the presence of an honest query and a video camera.

This would be a swell year to run off with a circus. The joy of getting away from a world of crooken politicians, racketeers, gyps, traitors, corrupt government agencies and all-around operators in crime would be terrific. It is a pleasing fact that while you see all sorts of animals in a circus you find no rats or pige.

We have been spending a few hours every night in the Ringling menagerie. It is refreshing to walk up and down before the cages and observe the comparative decency, dignity, poise and overall high standards of animal behavior. The African lions and Bengal tigers seem much more trustworthy than countless human beings paraded in the news for the past six months. The hyena has always struck us as a particular menace, but this spring he seems nearer to being on the level than many hoodlums and their ever-ready barristers. We never fancied the black panther, but we feel certain he wouldn't take refuge behind, "I refuse to answer on the ground it might tend to incriminate and degrade me."

The slinky puma has never been one of our pets, but we have been studying the circus specimens carefully and are positive a carload of 'em would be less dangerous to any community than a similar cargo of finagling politicians, corrupt public servants and 1951 model heels. You can stare into the eyes of a wildcat for hours and find nothing in its expression or manner half so shifty, hard and tricky as you saw in the demeanor of dozens of witnesses before the Kefauver committee. Can you imagine a leopard ever needing a lawyer in any situation?

We put in some time in front of the gorilla cage. A big, ugly gorilla looks pretty companionable this year. It shows no interest in money. Somehow we can't imagine a gorilla exposed as having had a wonderful time gypping taxpayers, selling drugs to kids and things like that. To one ape we whispered, "How'd you like to buy some trucks from the Government for a couple hundred dollars and sell 'em back to the Government for $3,500? Its disgust and resentment was obvious. We asked a keeper about elephants. Whenever a "rogue" elephant is found in the herd it is quickly separated and put where it can do no harm. (No long drawn-out legal proceedings, no search for loopholes, no appeals, no briefs, no $2 fines!)

The circus brings back an air of wholesomeness, charm, and decency. There is this to be said of the big top: it never corrupted a child or had to be probed by juvenile delinquency students. The performers offer quite a fine example today. They made it the hard way, and at the risk of life and limb twice a day. The Man on the Flying Trapeze is infinitely more inspiring than the Public Servant in the Revolving Grabbag, the Mobster on the Public Neck and the Fixer in the Rotating Basketball Victory. Lemme hear that circus band!

Commuter's Local

Hoes and spades of every style
Sticking out into each aisle . . .
Bags of lime and bulbs and grain
On the seats in every train . . .
In each coach aromas queer—
Spring beyond all doubt is here!

Washington's famous cherry trees blossomed early this spring. And without anybody charging influence or a "fix."

Line of the month (from The Big Show): There is no money in money any more.

You don't really know what inflation is until you price grass seed this year. We went for a salt-cellar full yesterday and had to have the deal financed.

Vanishing Americanisms

"Keep calm, cool, and collected."

"Your government knows what it's doing."

"Anybody can save money if he tries."

James B. Walsh has been named special counsel to the New York City Crime Commission in its probe. In the hope everything will come out all right in the Walsh, as the saying goes.

Teachers Express Reaction To Board's New Salary Schedule

Resolutions Point Up Disapproval

Stroudsburg Board of Education last night received a list of five resolutions adopted by the Stroudsburg Teachers association outlining the group's reaction to the salary schedule recently set by the board.

The resolutions were officially adopted by the association during its meeting last Monday. They were signed by Mrs. Lillian M. Fanseen, president of the association, and James T. Anthony III, secretary.

The five resolutions, as read to the board by President Warren F. Loney, are:

One—"Inasmuch as the board of education is legally empowered to set salaries as it sees fit, so long as they pay the State mandated minimum salary, and inasmuch as the board has made it clear their action is definite and final, we are inevitably forced to accept our salaries as set for the term 1951-52.

Two—"It is recommended that this group record in its minutes a unanimous protest against the manner in which the salaries were arrived at. We therefore express our disappointment in and disapproval of the way in which the Board of Education treated the recommendations of our salary committee.

Three—"It is recommended we protest the kind of publicity which indicated that most teachers are to receive an increase of $500 when in reality only six teachers are to receive such an increase.

Four—"It is recommended that we indicate that our organization is not going to be satisfied with this type of action and that we will concertedly act toward more equitable salary-fixing in the interests of betther education for Stroudsburg.

Five—"It is recommended that this group elect a representative or representatives to attend all future board meetings and report proceedings back to the group."

Board members accepted the list of resolutions and moved they be recorded in the minutes.

It was also agreed the salaries of of Stroudsburg teachers be published. This will be done after the State Legislature takes action on the salary and subsidy proposals being supported by the Pennsylvania State Education association.

Passage of the salary proposal would necessitate a change in the present salary schedule, which cannot be permanently fixed until the State takes this action.

Robert Cyphers Walks Off With First Prize At Fair

Tannersville—Robert Cyphers, Pocono High school sophomore, took first place in the school's annual science fair which is now in progress at the local school.

His winning exhibit was a two-way inter-communications system which he devised.

The three-day fair, which will end today, is under the direction of George Learn, science, chemistry and geography teacher. The six winners will automatically be eligible to enter the annual Wyckoff-Sears Science fair.

Second prize went to Wilmer Metzger and Avon Doll, seniors, for their automatic transmission entry. Jane Bowman, junior, took third prize for her exhibit of North American snakes in their natural setting.

Three honorable prize ribbons were presented to Stanley Roeber for his entry of cuts from trees; Alvin Kresge, auto distributor; Lawrence Peechatka, wind resistance of new model and old model automobiles.

Exhibits were placed under the headings of biology, chemistry, physics and engineering.

Some of the exhibits include pictures of the heart, digestive tract, sense organs. One exhibit shows the skelton of a chicken, another is an "explosion chamber" which really works.

In all there were 63 exhibits in the fair.

Judges were Mr. Learn, John Montgomery, vocational agriculture teacher; Elwood Arndt, mathematics teacher; Richard DeHaven, history teacher.

Citizenry Takes Sides On Ouster

been done at this time—one of the worst incidents in the history of our government."

He further charged that President Truman "is apparently listening to a pack of poor advisers" hanging close by at Washington. "Truman is and has been rejecting good thinking men in his own party," the deputy concluded.

Reactions across the street at Monroe county court house were evident, although few of the persons employed there cared to make a public comment. One woman secretarial employe said: "I'd like to give you a quote, but I guess I better not."

Mrs. Mary Strunk, of 804 Monroe St., a transcriber in the register and recorder's office, didn't hesitate, however. "I think MacArthur is a great leader," she said.

"I hope they put him back in. My husband worked in his headquarters during the second world war. I never heard of this Van Fleet before (Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet who succeeds General Ridgway in Korea).

Mrs. Dolores Decker, of 120 Linden St., another transcriber, said:

"What I'd like to know is why Truman appointed Ridgway. If this is UN warfare, why doesn't the UN name its own leaders?"

Mrs. LaDora Bolcar, 17 Fetherman St., PMA secretary, had this comment:

"The people probably don't know all the facts. This MacArthur affair undoubtedly has been brewing for a long time. Truman must have had reason for his action."

Teacher Resigns

Stroudsburg board of education last night accepted the resignation of Raymond P. Harding, Pennsylvania and U. S. history teacher at the high school.

In his letter of resignation Mr. Harding stated he had received an "attractive" offer which he did not wish to let pass by.

He asked to be released at the termination of the present term. Directors agreed unanimously.

The financial statement, which was approved, included: general fund balance, $73,449.47; coupon account balance, $656.25; sinking fund balance, $91.79; U. S. Treasury bonds at cost, $52,488.50.

A total of $5,774.91 in bills were paid.

School directors also discussed next year's budget and insurance to be taken out on the district's three buildings.

Those present on the board were Warren F. Loney, president; Mrs. Katherine E. Koehler; Dr. Marshall R. Metzgar, Dr. Claus G. Jordan, Norman O. Bender and Joseph S. Wallace.

Superintendent Earl F. Gorner was also present for the meeting, which was held in the high school.

Line Material To Build New Plant At Olean

Line Material Co. operators of one of the major industrial operations in Monroe county, announced from its Line Material of Milwaukee plant recently plans for an industrial plant to be erected in Olean, N. Y.

The release on the project, made available here yesterday by Gilbert L. Smrz, local manager, said the Olean installation is the second plant to be announced by the company within the past several weeks.

Noted for its production of electrical distribution equipment, the firm will manufacture protective power line equipment. W. D. Kyle Jr. said this manufacturing process is being transferred to the Olean facility from the firm's South Milwaukee plant because of expanded munitions production at the local factory.

It is expected the new plant will be completed and in production of lightning arresters and fuse cutouts by next fall.

Plant will be erected on a 24-acre tract east of Olean. It will have 70,000 square feet of floor space and employ approximately 150 people.

The firm is pushing plans to build a plant at Sherman, Texas.

Main plant at South Milwaukee produces the 3,5 rocket launcher. A division of McGraw Electric Co., Line Material also has plants at Barton, Wis.; Kansas City, Mo.; Birmingham, Ala.; Zanesville, O.; Oneida, N. Y.; Toronto, Canada.

Trial Of Three Young Men On Morals Charge Opens In Northampton County Court

Easton—Joseph Rafter, Joseph Jones and Thomas Sines, three 23-year-old Philadelphia men charged with the common law rape of a 16-year-old East Stroudsburg girl, went on trial here yesterday in Northampton county court.

Two other defendants, one of them an East Stroudsburg juvenile, were granted a severance as the trial hearing commenced before Judge William E. Frack.

Northampton county's district attorney Jacob A. Raub said last night the juvenile and Peter Critikos, 22, another Philadelphian, who attended East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, will be tried separately after the present trial is concluded.

Asked if they would be tried as accessories, he answered that they've been indicted on the full charge and will be tried on that charge.

The trial opened yesterday with Elias Spengler, first assistant district attorney from Bath, appearing for the Commonwealth. The three defendants were represented by Atty. Charles Hogan, Northampton county criminal lawyer, and two other attorneys, one of whom is from the Philadelphia bar.

Atty. Elmer D. Christine, of Stroudsburg, appeared as counsel for the juvenile.

Six witnesses, including the girl, her mother and father, Dr. Evan C. Reese, of Monroe County General hospital; Mrs. Clinton Diehl, of Stokes Mills, and the juvenile, testified yesterday, although none of the defendants was called.

Mrs. Diehl testified concerning the girl's condition when she came to her home after the escapade on the morning of February 25. She said she called the girl's parents and that they later called Dr. Nina M. Price, East Stroudsburg physician.

Dr. Reese read the court an examination report he made at General hospital after examining the girl on February 25.

Photographs made at the East Stroudsburg police station by Roderick G. MacLeod, Stroudsburg photographer, were also introduced by District Attorney Spengler. These were admitted as evidence and shown to the jury of three men and nine women.

The juvenile took the witness stand late in the afternoon, but the court adjourned until 9:30 a. m. today soon after he started testifying.

Three Hurt In Collision Of Two Cars

Tannersville — Three Tannersville area residents, one of them a 17-year-old girl, were injured in a two-car collision which took place at 5:30 p. m. yesterday on Route 611 in front of Metzgar's market.

Miss Joan A. Transue, who was driving a 1946 sedan owned by Alvin Transue, of Tannersville, made a lefthand turn off the highway and collided with a 1941 machine owned and operated by Fred Kresge Jr., 26, also of Tannersville.

Kresge was driving northward on the highway at the time, while Miss Transue had been proceeding southward before making the turn toward the parking area at the market, according to Pfc. Edward Beneski, who investigated for Stroudsburg State police.

Miss Transue, Kresge and John Roeber, of Scotrun, a passenger ni the Kresge car, were all taken to Monroe County General hospital in a private automobile.

Miss Transue sustained a sprained left arm, Kresge received abrasions of the forehead and a sprained back and Roeber, who was thrown forward in his seat by the impact of the collision sustained lacerations of the lips.

All three were treated at the hospital and later discharged.

Damages were estimated in excess of $250.

More April Showers Due Here Today

Rain will continue to wet down areas in the Monroe county locale early today, according to Weatherman Michael Hannon.

The showers should stop, however, and give way to cooler weather and generally cloudy skies with occasional splashes of sunshine coming through. High temperatures today will range from 50 to 55, with the low bracketed somewhere between the upper thirties and the lower forties, Hannon said, adding "it'll be a topcoat day."

Saturday, he continued, will be fair and warmer with moderate temperatures.

Yesterday's maximum here was 62, the minimum was 45, and the mean was 54 degrees ,two warmer than normal. Wind velocity averaged 18 miles per hour went as high as 35 MPH on occasion as winds came from out of the south and the southeast.

Business News In Monroe Area

Samuel Miller, Delaware Water Gap, former painting contractor and car salesman, this week completed details of ownership and operation of a small restaurant and tap room at 200 Park Ave., Stroudsburg.

Mr. Miller purchased the business from Henry Stettler, who has operated the restaurant with a beer license for some time. The property is owned by the Kloess family.

The Business Review of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia said yesterday in a discussion of "spasmodic spending":

People are unpredictable. Last summer when the war broke out they rushed to the stores and bought heavily but selectively.

The buying boom faded out almost as fast as it flared up but it quickened the forces of inflation.

Last winter another and a bigger wave of buying swept through the stores. Fearful of shortages and higher prices and higher taxes, people laid up stocks of all kinds of merchandise.

Again the tide turned as spending receded, with expanding defense production and rising personal income, there may be more flurries of spasmodic spending.

Summing up current business trends in the Third Federal Reserve district, which includes Monroe county, the bank said they were mixed during February.

Manufacturing production was stable, department store sales declined, and bank loans expanded.

James Walsh, head of the repair department of all stores of Community Jewelers organization, is spending today and Saturday at Community Jewelers, 601 Main St., Stroudsburg, for specialized service to local customers.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Use good judgment and select proper course of action; what is most needed should come first. Avoid overdoing; you will accomplish more. Heed your conscience; care for health.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — You should find matters close to your family and very private affairs smoother, easier to handle. A good day for sound money transactions, investments, etc. But do be sensible all day.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Favorable Venus and Jupiter aspects augur for a fruitful, constructive and happy day IF you do your share to make it so. Work, wholesome recreation, all worthy interests sponsored.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo) — Fine aspects for business astutely managed but your Sun's aspect now warns against unnecessary changes that could interrupt profitable running order. A tricky day, be thoughtful.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Practical business, routine tasks more favored today than professional pursuits. But whatever your interests or occupation, you can make at least some headway by faithful attention.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Most encouraging influences. Be equal to demands of the day and your calling. Have faith in the right way, don't neglect details, be accurate and you can do well. Pray.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Should be inspiring day for the business end of all worth while transactions, investments, government needs. However, carelessness, delay in urgent issues can hurt results.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Neptune stresses need for extra caution in confidential matters, travel, shipping, dealing in chemicals, oils. Most worthy activities will receive benefits.

YOU BORN TODAY: Versatile, alert mentality, but sometimes too impulsive and aggressive for happiness and achievement. Learn control over these harmful tendencies lest they defeat you in attaining top success, which you should. You can be a leader without forfeiting gentleness, courtesy. Keep studying, improving and remember there is no age limit for gaining knowledge and benefits. You have the knack of extending your knowledge. Take stock of your associations, are they worthy? Make changes where needed. Birthdate: Thos. Jefferson, 3rd U. S. President; Howard Keel, actor.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Convention time again, and we no sooner get one group of delegates back from AAUW than another takes off for Music club or Eastern Star, or something.

And all of them come back full of enthusiasm for the organization and for their club's part in it, and then try to import some of that enthusiasm to the folks at home who've been thinking of everything else but.

Everybody ought, at least once in their life, experience a big convention. You can't understand, otherwise, what a feeling you get of belonging to something big and significent. And nobody else can tell you.

Pageant Of Year Marks Club Birthday

Tannersville—The Pocono Garden club met at the firehouse on Tuesday, April 10, with Mrs. B. H. Granacher presiding. She opened the meeting with the following quotation "Nature is God's green growing volume. What beauty in the world and how God's love is revealed to each one of us in lake and hills and in the budding of the trees, yes, in the flowers of the field we see God's work."

There were fifty-two members and six visitors present, including Arthur Ifft, the county agent, and Misses Mary Ann Eckle and Emma Jean Fellencer, of Stroudsburg High school, the latter two operating the projector showing the film on "Cancer". An offering was taken later in the meeting for the Cancer fund and $14. was realized for this purpose.

Revised copies of the by-laws were distributed to members present and additional copies are available for anyone who does not have them. Marjorie Canfield reported on the tablecloth committee.

Mrs. A. H. Mathiasen extended an invitation from the Monroe County club to any member wishing to join the excursion to the Brooklyn Botanical Gardens on May 17.

Mrs. Ruth Howell, of the program committee, who had planned special features for this 15th anniversary meeting, gave a brief history of the club which was organized in April, 1936, at Scotrun with 13 members. The club now has about 150 members and is steadily increasing in numbers.

The past presidents include: Mrs. Eleanor Heckman, Mrs. Marjorie Canfield, Mrs. Sadie McCool, Mrs. Kathleen McDade, Mrs. Cora Smith, Mrs. L. Lambert, Mrs. Helen Starner with Mrs. Estella Granacher, the present incumbent.

Fall was represented by Mrs. Alice Frailey who read "When the Frost is on the Pumpkin." Mrs. Frances Besecker read The Legend of the Christmas Rose in representing the winter season. Mrs. Howell read a closing poem.

Mrs. Granacher read an article on the cabbage plant.

Mrs. Eleanor Heckman, the first president of the club, presided at the refreshment table and cut the birthday cake, which with many other cakes and ice cream was enjoyed by all attending. The hostesses included Mrs. Eleanor Heckman, Mrs. Donald Hartman, Mrs. T. G. Hawks, Mrs. Haviland Heller and there was a spray of premature blossoms on the table arrangement.

Local AAUW Represented At Convention

Mrs. Henry Slaboski, president of the local branch of the American Association of University Women, and Mrs. Neal D. Coberly last night arrived home from four days at the national convention at Atlantic City. They were part of 1,000 delegates at the sessions devoted to the theme "Freedom — Our Responsibility." The American Association of University Women yesterday adopted a lobbying program that includes support for the United Nations and Federal aid to education.

Another item called for "a constructive foreign policy which would endeavor to develop conditions favorable to democracy and economic wellbeing throughout the world."

Critics of the program termed parts of it "so vague that it's practically meaningless."

Mrs. Norris F. Krohn of Oshkosh, Wis., cited the "constructive foreign policy" plank. She said backers of any policy could argue that it had this effect, "be it right, left or middle-of-the road."

A small minority group had claimed since the convention began on Sunday that the program was so broadly worded as to allow AAUW leaders to give it a left wing slant.

The Oshkosh delegation claimed many issues backed by the organization's lobbyist would not have the specific support of its 115,000 members.

An attempt by the Oshkosh delegationn earlier today to have the program limited to items initiated in local branches was overwhelmingly voted down. Opposition to other parts of the program folded after this defeat.

The association announced election of Dr. Susan B. Riley of Nashville, Tenn., as president for the next four years. An English professor at George Peabody College, Dr. Riley headed a slate which was not contested for any office.

In its legislative program, the association voted for a measure to give "independent status to the U. S. office of education." The office is now under the Federal Security administration.

The committee now has $250 in its treasury, which it is saving until needed.

PTA Contributes To Band Fund At Pocono High

Tannersville — The Tannersville Parent-Teachers association this week voted to give $100 to the music supervisor, Carmen Cavuto, to be used to purchase band instruments.

Problems Of Home, School To Be Shared

After the presentation, a panel of students selected by the student council will answer questions rising out of the findings. Selected to represent their respective classes are Ann Stevenson, Jack Howitt, Michael Sharlot and Ann Nitrauer.

Following the program, refreshments will be served. Mrs. Charles Cincotta, Mrs. M. S. Baldwin, Mrs. Harry Bolich and Mrs. Allen Barnes will compose the refreshment committee; and Mrs. Kenneth Barthold, and Mrs. Britten Allen. Mrs. John Bailey is hospitality chairman.

Pocono Twp. Organization Plans Election

Tannersville—An organization of Pocono township taxpayers is expected to elect officers at a meeting to be held at the Pocono township school here at 8 p. m. Saturday, according to an announcement made yesterday.

The taxpayers' organization, which has been advocating the appointment of a township police officer and the establishment of a school zone on busy Route 611, will hear a report from a nominating committee appointed at the last general meeting held in early March.

At that time, it was also voted to present a petition signed by a large group of taxpayers to township supervisors as the first step in pressing for the appointment of the police officer.

The petition was placed in the hands of the supervisors at a supervisors' meeting held last Wednesday, and it is understood that the supervisors took the matter under advisement.

Report on this issue, and another on plans for marking "school zone" signs on Route 611 near the township school are also expected Saturday night.

Arch Long acted as chairman pro tem at the March meeting of the group, while Charles Van Sciver was acting secretary. The late Russell L. Sandt presided over the first meeting held in February, and George Learn was acting secretary at that time.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

This writer is among many who have picked the Boston Red Sox to win the pennant for the past three years, only to lose in a special playoff, on the final day of the season and in a close battle in that order. I was among many who said they would never pick the Bosox to win again—but that was last year. Although I am letting myself wide open for a good going over from the local fans, I can't help but pick the Crimson Hose again, although the Beantowners have developed into the best second place club in history during recent campaigns.

The Red Sox were considered tops in the game at the beginning of last season, but since that time have added Ray Scarborough and Bill Wight to their pitching staff, to plug a hole that was troublesome at this same time a year ago. Although obtaining Scarborough and Wight was a major factor in picking Boston to win this year, the fact that Lou Boudreau is a member of the Fenway Park crew gives added hope for an American League pennant. The former Cleveland manager seems destined to handle the shortstop role this year.

Mike Guerra, one of the best defensive catchers in the league, was obtained from the A's, to give the club a capable receiving corps. The fact that Big Walt Dropo wasn't injured nearly as seriously as first thought and that the Bosox will have all of that old power of last season makes the Fenway tenants the top club in the circuit, at least from this writer's point of view. Ellis Kinder's relief pitching should also play a major role in the pennant fight.

As usual the Yankees will be right up there, as that Yankee spirit and habit of coming up with the right player at the right time will undoubtedly be right in the thick of the fight once again and it doesn't seem possible that the Bronx Bombers will finish any worse than second. However, the fact that Joe Page still isn't in winning form and that Allie Reynolds won't be ready for action on opening day will fail to help the New York cause. However, otherwise the club is as strong as last year and if the three great rookies continue to show the same brand of ball during the regular season as they have shown for the past month, the Junior loop race should be a honey.

Cleveland, apparently improved over a year ago, especially by the rookies making their bid for a spot in the big time, seems strong enough to finish third, due to strong catching, a solid infield and a better than fair outfield. The pitching, too, will be better than a year ago and with good hurling the Tribe can fight its way into the middle of the flag race. I doubt if the switch in managers will turn the trick, but the influx of young players has improved the Cleveland cause plenty.

Surprisingly enough, the Detroit Tigers don't appear as strong as last season at this same time and can be picked as no better than fourth place by this writer, with opening day around the corner. The Tigers seem fairly well set in every department except the pitching corps, where the club was strongest last year. However, this year the pitchers don't seem to be hitting as a year ago, with such stalwarts as Ted Gray and Virgil "Fire" Trucks remaining as question marks, following arm difficulties.

The improved Chicago Cubs should vault into the number five spot, and close to the first division, under the leadership of Paul Richards, recently appointed manager. The Pale Hose are improved throughout, especially in the outfield where Al Zarilla, purchased from the Red Sox, will help the club tremendously, both at the plate and defensively. The pitching may not be as strong as last season, due to trades, but it seems adequate enough to carry the club to the top of the second division.

There doesn't appear to be much to choose between the Washington Senators, Philadelphia A's and St. Louis, but this scribe expects to see them finish sixth, seventh and eighth respectively. Better pitching and a good infield should keep the Senators above the A's and Browns, while Manager Jimmy Dykes is expected to instill the usual peaceful A's with enough spirit to keep them in seventh place above the lowly Browns. However, the Philadelphia crew will also have to win a few games on merit, if it is to escape the cellar.

The Browns, without Dr. Tracy seem to be even better than last year, although Ned Garver, ace hurler, has been spotty at times during the spring grind. However, if everything works smoothly, the Browns appear to have enough power to fight the Senators for the sixth spot, but it's much safer to pick Zack Taylor's crew for the cellar position.

Pocono A.C. Granted Use Of Giffels Field

Unanimous Vote Approves Team Request

Pocono A. C., Monroe county's entry in the Blue Mountain Baseball league, will use Gordon Giffels field as its home base this season, it was announced last night, following a meeting of the Stroudsburg school board, at Stroudsburg High school.

Permission to use the W. Main St. field was given the local ball club by unanimous permission of the board members present. Those voting in favor of the movement were Joseph Wallace, Warren "Mag" Loney, Dr. Claus Jordon, Dr. Marshall R. Metzgar, Norman Bender and Mrs. Katherine Koehler.

Last night's approval by the board is subject to further approval by Attorney Arlington W. Williams, solicitor.

Meeting

An earlier meeting in Williams' office had set the groundwork for obtaining permission to use the field formerly used by the Stroudsburg Poconos, of the North Atlantic League. The earlier meeting featured Loney, Wallace and Henry G. Tucker acting for the school board and Fred Hershey, General Manager of Pocono A. C., representing the baseball interests.

The field was given to the local ball club to use, but under certain stipulations, as outlined in the approved ammendment by Wallace.

Pocono A. C. will be charged $10 per game, without the dressing rooms, but will be allowed to use the concession stand. However, there will be no advertising allowed on the fence.

The Blue Mountain League team expects to play at least 14 home games this season, with rental to be paid in advance. The club must also have liability insurance. Pocono A. C. will not be allowed to interfere with high school activities and must give up use of the field by Labor Day.

Waymart Ace Honored In Court Poll

Harrisburg (AP) — Two members of state championship teams copped top honors on the 1951 Little All-Pennsylvania scholastic basketball team released yesterday by the Associated Press.

Kutztown's flashy playmaker Ronnie Weidenhammer received the most votes in the second annual poll of sports editors and radio sportscasters all over the state to honor the outstanding players on class "B" and "C" teams. Weidenhammer was the only repeater from last year's initial selections.

Receiving the most votes from the west was Charles Craig, six-foot- five center for Fredonia's class "C" state champions—winners of the first state title game ever held in that division.

Completing the starting five are Jack Vaile of once-beaten Cresson; Ron Mayer of class "B" western titlist Avalon, and Bob Ferry, of Freeland St. Ann's.

The Little All-State team was originated last year by the Associated Press to honor players from class "B" and "C" schools—both public and parochial. The All-Pennsylvania team, released last week, includes only players from class "A" schools.

Second Team
Tom Gustin, Mercer
Ken Miller, East Greenville
Charley Decker, Waymart
Dick Drennan, Springdale
Bill Wilson, Mt. Joy

Big Gun

Weidenhammer was credited by coach John Silan as the main reason Kutztown won its second class "B" state title in a row.

"Weidenhammer was our key player, who not only scored over 400 points but passed off time and time again to set up scoring plays," Silan said. "It was Weidenhammer who came through in the clutch for us this season."

Six-foot-one Ronnie, who wears glasses as he plays, scored 441 points in 29 games in his senior year. A clever dribbler, he ran through zone and man-to-man defenses although he was double-guarded in many games.

Craig, who made the second team last year, even topped Weidenhammer's scoring mark as the 140-pound stringbean tallied 541 points. In four years the brilliant rebound artist and one-hand pivot shot expert has collected 1,434 points as a letterman. Last year he scored 539 points as the Fredonia Vocats won the PIAA class "C" western title.

Jack Vaile, a six-foot-two forward, was the principle reason for Cresson winning 22 games in a row this season. Vaile, another dazzler with a one-hand push, tallied 440 points in 23 games. He also wrecked many defenses with his drive-in layups.

Ron Mayer, the only junior on the starting five, led the fighting Avalon Panthers to the western title of class "B". Another six-foot-two lad, he scored 406 points for the season.

Bob Ferry of Freeland St. Ann's is the shortest member of the starting five—he measures only five-foot-ten. But the top scorer in the Mountain league made up for his lack of height by uncanny shooting even while off balance. He scored 735 points in 29 games for an average of 25.3 his high single game was a 42-point performance against Mauch Chunk in Mountain league play.

Third Team
Stan Student, McAdoo
Dick Wetzel, Ashland
Pete Cochran, Prospect Park
Noble Ackerman, Irwin
Dick Anderson, Lawrence Park

Bangor To Play At Pen Argyl

Pen Argyl — Bangor and Pen Argyl High schools clash here in an exhibition baseball game this afternoon, as both clubs take part in their first action of the present campaign. The contest is scheduled to be played at Weona Park, at 4 p. m.

Bangor, after slightly more than two weeks of drill, has picked a tough customer with which to open the present diamond campaign. Pen Argyl captured the Lehigh - Northampton League crowd and District 11 title last year.

Lineups

Coach Dave Thomas was uncertain about his starting lineup today, but announced a tentative lineup which featured Vince DeFranco, first base; Leonard Castellucci, center field; Anthony Falcone, shortstop; Harry Callie, catcher; Joe Yannuzzi, right field; Harold Frace, left field; Joe Heard, second base; Dominic "Ziggy" DeFranco, third base, and Glen Raph, pitcher. Dick Walk is scheduled to be the relief hurler.

However, Thomas pointed out the fact that the entire squad would probably see some sort of action in today's cotnest.

Glen Brook Opening May Be Postponed

Clifford Heller, chairman of the greens committee at Glen Brook Country club, announced late last night that the official 1951 opening of the club is still set for tomorrow, although yesterday's heavy rains may force postponement of the opening day schedule.

However, Heller pointed out that the opening day hadn't been postponed and won't be done until it becomes obvious that weather conditions will be unfavorable for golf on Saturday.

Dinner

Even though the course doesn't open tomorrow, there will be a buffet dinner from 6 to 8 p. m. and dancing beginning at 9.

Mike Rubish, Glen Brook professional this season, has arrived for duty and will have the golf shop in good condition by opening day. Rubish will be in complete charge of the playing end of the game and will give all the lessons during the coming summer months.

Louis' Contract Troubles Brought To Light In Court

New York (AP)—Joe Louis contracted to pay his manager 50 per cent of his gross earnings from 1935 to 1945 it was learned yesterday from papers filed in Supreme Court.

Details of the contract were disclosed in an answer filed by Sol Straus, Louis' attorney, to a suit by John Roxborough who asked an accounting of Louis' earnings in the Ezzard Charles fight last September.

According to Strauss' answer, Roxborough induced Louis to make a written agreement with Julian Black of Chicago whereby Black was engaged as his manager for ten years from May 14, 1935. Louis agreed to pay Black 50 per cent of his gross receipts from boxing contests, exhibitions, movies and radio, Strauss said in his reply.

Expenses

Louis was to pay his own training expenses, railroad fares and other expenses out of the remaining 50 per cent, the papers said.

Strauss' answer claimed the contract was "unconscionable and upon information and belief was brought about by the plaintiff (Roxborough) for his personal gain and profit." The answer further claimed the plaintiff "does not come into the court with clean hands."

The connection between Roxborough and the ten-year contract between Louis and Black was not clarified. Roxborough claims to have a contract with Louis calling for 25 per cent of his gross earnings for an indefinite period.

Roxborough's suit was filed last September. The last amended answer was filed February 12, 1951. There is no indication when the court will take any action on the suit.

According to New York law it is illegal for a fighter to pay a manager more than 33 and one-third per cent of his ring earnings after expenses have been deducted.

Pro Football Fatal To Georgetown

Cambridge, Mass. (AP) — Rising costs and television weren't the only causes of Georgetown University dropping football; the greatest blame should be placed on the professionals, Coach Bob Margarita said yesterday.

Margarita, who arrived here yesterday to assume his post as assistant at Harvard University, emphasized this with what he described as concrete examples.

Crowd

"We had about 8,000 for our game with Maryland. That's all," Margarita said. He likened the Georgetown-Maryland rivalry to that existing hereabouts between Boston College and Holy Cross College.

The Maryland team was ranked eighth nationally at the time and had just beaten Michigan State 35-7, he said.

"Another time," he added, "we had a game with Tulsa, which had an 8-1 record and drew only 4,800."

"The Washington Redskins have made Washington a pro football town," he continued.

Margarita should know something about pro and college football.

Another Figure Enters Basketball Scandal

New York, (AP)—Richard Feurtado, a former basketball player for Long Island University, was arrested on bribery charges yesterday—the eighteenth collegian involved in the growing bet-bribe scandal.

He is 24 and lives in Santa Cruz, Cal.

Feurtado was accused of taking part in fixing three Long Island University games in the 1949-50 season and one in the season before that.

The basketball scandal that broke in February has involved stars or former players from four schools—LIU, Manhattan, City College of New York and New York University.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said Fuertoda voluntarily came here from California, arriving only yesterday.

Gas Station

Hogan said the former basketball player got $4,000 for his part in the alleged game fixes.

Feurtado drew $500, the district attorney charged, for a fix of the LIU-Duquesne game January 1, 1949. Duquesne won 64-55.

Previously, Hogan has said fixers paid tens of thousands of dollars to the players involved to rig the scores of 20 Madison Square Garden games.

Five men have been arrested and accused of putting up the money to swing the fixes. Chief among them, according to Hogan, is Salvatore Sollazzo, a New York City jewelry manufacturer. He is awaiting trial on 13 counts of bribery.

Hogan said the go-between in the alleged fix of the LIU-Duquesne game was Eddie Gard, a former LIU player arrested in mid-February.

Gard allegedly was contact man for Sollazzo in efforts to bribe various players.

Kentucky Coach Blames School Authorities For Cage Trouble

Dayton, O., (AP)—Adolph Rupp, coach of Kentucky's NCAA basketball champions, last night placed the blame for the recent New York College basketball scandals on coaches and authorities at eastern schools.

Addressing the Agonis club, a local sports group, Rupp said:

"When you allow those boys to commercialize themselves as they did in the east, the consequences are evident."

Rupp cited the upstate New York "Borsch Circuits," where college stars work as hotel employes and play on hotel cage teams in the summer as one of the main contributing factors in the "fix" scandals.

He also criticized coaches and authorities for permitting eastern college players to "participate with professionals and High school boys for money on Sundays and over weekends."

Statement

"They've winked at such methods for the last 15 years and permitted them to continue. Is it any wonder that a basketball scandal is the result?" he asked.

Rupp gave two possible remedies for the sport's "temporary ills:"

"Take basketball back to the campus as we have down in Kentucky. We've made more money at Kentucky than we ever did in Madison Square Garden.

"Or elect a basketball czar and give him some teeth. The trouble with this plan is that none of the administrators have enough guts to favor such a plan. They just want a man to smooth things over," Rupp said.

Board Reviews Plans For Wrestling

James Burrows, secretary of the Exchange Club, addressed a letter to Earl H. Groner, superintendent of Stroudsburg schools, asking permission to use Gordon Giffels field for wrestling shows this summer.

The letter was brought before the school board, at last night's meeting, and the request was tentatively approved, although no prices were announced.

Details

Further details will have to be worked out on the request before it can be officially granted.

The Exchange Club plans to hold an indoor show in June, and outdoor matches in July and August.

Money raised by the club during these shows will be contributed to the East Stroudsburg Little Baseball League.

Tigers Gain Nod Over Barons

Birmingham, Ala., (AP) — Three Detroit pitchers were hit hard, but the Tigers eked out an 11-8 exhibition triumph yesterday over the Birmingham Barons of the Southern Association.

Teddy Gray, Freddie Hutchinson and Saul Rogovin went to the mound for Detroit and both Gray and Hutch were given rough treatment by the minor leaguers.

Hit Hard

Gray was tagged for eight hits and five walks in the five innings he worked. Hutchinson walked two and gave five hits. The Barons scored five runs off Gray and three off Hutchinson.

While Detroit collected 11 hits, only four came off ol' Bobo Newsom who started for the Barons. The others came off three rookies.

Portland To Practice

Portland—LeRoy "Cheesy" Egbert, manager of the Portland entry in the Blue Mountain baseball league, announced last night that the club would hold its initial practice on Sunday, at the ball field, at 2 p. m.

All former players and interested candidates are urged to attend the drill.

Basilio Gains Nod

Syracuse, N. Y., (AP) — Carmen Basilio, Syracuse welterweight, won a unanimous ten-round decision last night over Eddie Giosa.

Amateurs Turn Cold Shoulder On Tennis Plan

By Will Grimsley

New York (AP)—A new move to establish an open tennis championship, similar to that in golf, drew a cold shoulder yesterday from the top brass of the amateurs but enthusiastic support from the pros.

"There is no likelihood of such a thing in the future," said Russell B. Kingman, president of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association, ruling body of the amateurs.

"It would be a great boon to the game," commented Bobby Riggs, promoter of the professional net tours.

Edward Herr, of Miami, Fla., an official of the Florida Tennis Association, has written Kingman suggesting a "limited controlled open," involving the 16 top professionals and 16 top amateurs.

Split Gate

Herr's idea is to split the gate and television receipts down the middle, giving half to the pros and the other half, less expenses, to the 14 sections composing the USLTA.

Breaks Enable Bosox To Take Measure Of Springfield, 5-2

Springfield, Mass., (AP)—The Boston Red Sox scored three times without a hit in the seventh inning yesterday as they downed the Springfield Cubs of the International league 5-2.

An overflow audience of 10,376 saw the American leaguers end their barnstorming northward tour. Today the Sox will play the Boston Braves in the first game of a three set intra-city series.

Winning Margin

An error, four consecutive bases on balls and a flyout accounted for the American leaguers' winning margin in the seventh.

Ted Williams and Walt Dropo each rapped a pair of hits.

The Cubs scored both their runs against Bill Evans in the seventh. Both tallied on Jack Wallaesa's double, his third hit of the day.

Sign Pro Contracts

Cleveland, (AP) — The champion Cleveland Browns announced yesterday they had signed halfback Max Clark and tackle Milton "Mysto" Dietz to professional football contracts.

Clark played three years of varsity ball for the University of Houston.

Dietz was captain of last year's Muhlenberg College team.

Commercial 'C' Rolls

Alleys three and four—Nauman's Sporting Goods vs Worthington Mower.

Alleys five and six — Lanterman's Funeral Home vs Kreamee Ice Cream.

Baker To Meet Brothers At St. Nicholas

By Jack Hand

New York (AP)—Bob Baker, touted as a potential heavyweight champ, makes his New York bow tonight against Elkins Brothers at St. Nicholas Arena.

Unbeaten in 19 pro fights, the Pittsburgh Negro will be shooting for national recognition in his first appearance before network television cameras. The 10 p.m. (EST) ten-rounder will be broadcast by ABC and televised by NBC.

Baker, at 24, is being groomed carefully. He has knocked out 14 of 19 opponents on his way up the ladder. He still is a year away from fighters like Ezzard Charles, the champ, and Jersey Joe Walcott. But he wants to fight any of the others.

Rugged Test

Brothers figures to be a rugged test for Baker. A swarming busy fighter who seldom takes a backward step, Brothers is at his best against big men. He is only 5-foot 9½ to Baker's 6-foot 1½ inches.

They are comparing Baker with the early Joe Louis on the speed of his fists and his ability to combine sock and boxing ability. Sidelined by a hand injury for several months, Baker returned to action earlier this month to stop Levi Bryant at Pittsburgh.

White Sox Divide Bargain Bill With Memphis Farm Club

Memphis, Tenn., (AP)—The Chicago White Sox, major league champions of the spring exhibitions, yesterday wound up their spring grind by splitting a double header with their farm club, the Memphis Chicks, managed by Luke Appling.

Loan Pitchers

The Sox loaned Pitchers Billy Pierce and Harry Dorish to the Chicks in the first game and suffered a 2-0 pasting. There was no leasing of pitchers in the second game and the Sox triumphed, 7-1, in seven innings before only 387 customers. The attendance was held down by chilly weather.

The White Sox meet the Chicago Cubs in Chicago today in the first of a three game series.

Baseball Meeting

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
